- National Guardianship Association Website Training Modules

Website:

http://www.guardianship.org/training_modules.htm

The following online modules are currently approved for Texas guardianship certification. Certified and provisionally certified guardians can earn one hour of continuing education for each module successfully completed. Modules listed are subject to changes in offering and availability by the NGA. The NGA requires you to complete and submit a test, and obtain a passing score of 75 or higher, before it will issue a certificate of completion. A certification of completion is required to claim the continuing education for the Board's purposes. All courses listed are approved through 12/31/2015.

Due or Undue Influence: How Do You Draw the Line?

[this module is approved for 1.0 hour in ethics]

- University of Texas School of Law Continuing Education

website: <http://utcle.org/ecourses> (then choose Guardianship and Elder Law)

The following online Guardianship and Elder Law courses are currently approved for Texas guardianship certification continuing education. Hours approved for each course, with ethics and legislative update hours if any, are indicated below the course name. Verification of completion is required to claim continuing education for the Board's purposes.

Note:

Some courses may reference Guardianship Credit upon submission of an affidavit and a $25 fee. This applies to individuals who are certified as Guardians Ad Litem, not to guardianship certification continuing education. Some courses may designate certain hours as "Guardianship" credit. Again, this refers to individuals who are certified as Guardians Ad Litem. Certified and provisionally certified guardians can earn continuing education hours as listed below for each course.
