Job Description:

This position works in the Judicial Information section of the Research and Court Services Division which is responsible for analyzing and presenting data for judicial branch issues and initiatives. The position is a full-time temporary position, with funding up to two years.

Performs data analysis and data research work related to trial courts' activity detail data. Work involves conducting detailed analyses on the impact of the pandemic to court caseloads and addressing the needs stemming from COVID-19 to ensure courts have the necessary resources and information available to address case backlogs. Work involves addressing the following tasks related to judicial information and court case backlog data: responding to requests for information, preparing necessary statistical and narrative reports, identifying key data quality issues, and communicating with the courts. Works under general supervision with considerable latitude for the use of initiative and independent judgment.

Essential Job Functions:

- Responsible for providing, analyzing, interpreting, and presenting court activity related data to the judiciary and agency leadership.
- Uses statistical methods and relational databases to analyze data sets.
- Collects, compiles and queries data.
- Evaluates data for quality issues and follows up with Judicial Information and Court Services staff, clerks, or courts as needed to resolve data issues.
- Assists in developing strategies to improve data quality and address court backlog data.
- Identifies and interprets data patterns and trends.
- Identifies research needs based on policy review and data findings.

- Responds to data and research requests as needed.
- May participate in the work of committees, task forces and other entities focused on the court backlog data.
- Works closely with the agency's Deputy Director of Research, Chief Data Officer, and Court Consultant on addressing and implementing systems and processes to assist courts in addressing backlog data.
- Performs related work as assigned and complies with all OCA policies.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Graduation from an accredited four-year college or university with major course work in business or public administration, government, computer science, statistics, data science, business analytics, mathematics, or related field; may substitute four years of full-time relevant experience for required education.
- Three additional years of progressively responsible full-time experience in research or statistical work.
- Ability to collect, compile, review, analyze, and evaluate statistical data and to conduct qualitative and quantitative analyses.
- Experience with data compilation and analysis, program evaluation, or research.
- Substantial experience with Excel and other software tools used to manipulate and analyze data and to produce graphs, charts and tables.
- Ability to communicate professionally in writing and orally and to translate complex information into common terms.
- Ability to manage concurrent projects or tasks to meet deadlines and adapt to changing priorities and deadlines.
- Ability to work effectively with a wide variety of internal and external customers.
- Proficient in Microsoft Office Suite.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Graduate degree preferred with major course work in the above areas of study.
- Experience in a judicial organization.
- Experience with using relational databases.
- Experience with or knowledge of the Texas judicial system.

Employment Conditions:

- Regular attendance required.
- Travel may be required.
- Operates standard office equipment, computer hardware and software.
- Employment may be remote.
- Must sit for extended periods of time.
- May talk on phone for extended periods of time.
