1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We are going to 2 start with Proposed Rule 364-A, which that may not 3 be the best number for it, but that's the way we 4 called it so far. That information is set out at 5 Page 445. Actually, it would be a new rule. It's 6 on 446. And Hadley has had a subcommittee working 7 on this and, as you know, it is my judgment to 8 step aside while it's being debated so that there 9 wouldn't be any question about where somebody was 10 coming from.

11 So, let me turn that over. The reason I'm 12 taking this out of order is there's a TTLA meeting
13 here in Austin today where some of our members 14 need to go, and we're going to try to get this out 15 of the way within an hour, if possible. Maybe it 16 won't take that long, maybe it will take longer -- 17 so that they can, when it's done, go forward to 18 their other meeting. And with that, Hadley, it's 19 your report.

20 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I wish Rusty were 21 here. Maybe he'll come in while we're talking 22 about it and I'll tell you somewhat of his 23 position in just a minute.

24 In reading the minutes of the last meeting, 25 our committee concluded that, really, what we are

1 supposed to do was to look at this rule and 2 determine whether it might be a proper rule 3 without regard to the constitutional acts that 4 might be being held over our current rule.

5 And so, in order to do that, we looked at the 6 second circuit opinion in the Pennzoil case, and 7 some of the members of this committee were very 8 helpful in providing me with information which 9 they had already obtained.

10 Luke gave me some information, Harry Reasoner
11 gave me some information, Kronzer did, Jim Sale
12 did. And we tried to compile all this 13 information, and I have it available for anybody 14 that wants to inspect it.

15 But after looking at all of this, our 16 committee was of the view that, as I stated in my 17 letter to Luke, the committee was unanimous in 18 concluding that a rule of this general nature is 19 desirable; I'm talking about Rule 364-A.

20 Now whether it takes the precise form that we 21 have it in now is something that we really didn't 22 consider because that had already gone through the 23 Committee on Administration of Justice, and I 24 thought that would be more properly the subject of 25 debate here in this committee.

1 But as far as the philosophy of allowing the 2 Court to, in certain cases, not require a 3 supersedeas bond of the type we now have, we felt 4 this was a desirable rule.

5 Now, that's basically what we have done.
6 Sam, have I correctly stated our position?

7 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): That's right.

8 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Broadus isn't here
9 yet but he has concurred in this also.

10 Now, let me say that Rusty had some serious 11 questions about Proposed Rule 364-A. And I just 12 had an opportunity to talk to him about it very 13 briefly yesterday, and I really feel I would not 14 be doing him justice if I tried to speak for him.
15 But I just want to state that he does have some 16 question about it.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Hadley is 18 going to conduct the debate if there is any debate
19 because I'll be identifying people to speak.
20 Rather, you would, so we're sure no question that 21 someone besides me has recognized all speakers who 22 care to address the issues.

23 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Is there any 24 discussion?

25 MR. MORRIS: Hadley, let me just

1 comment. I'm awfully unknowledgeable, I guess is 2 the word that's used, regarding this whole issue.
3 Could you just kind of educate me a little bit
4 about what the Court has said and what problems
5 you're trying to cure?

6 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, of course, the 7 origin of 364-A as you see here on Page 446 was 8 something that was in the mill long before there 9 was ever a Texaco/Pennzoil case. And this had 10 gone through the Committee on the Administration 11 of Justice, and they have proofed it and sent it 12 to us for consideration.

13 During that period, Pennzoil vs. Texaco held 14 in part that our statute as applied in that case 15 was unconstitutional. And I have a copy of the 16 opinion here if you want to take a look at it. At 17 least, that's the way we interpret it.

18 There's another kicker to that, though: that 19 the Court really spoke not only to the supersedeas 20 bond aspect, but also to the fact that once a 21 judgment is abstracted, it then becomes a debt of 22 the company.

23 And, therefore, in the Texaco case, the 24 supersedeas bond coupled with the abstract of 25 judgment, simply precluded Texaco from obtaining a

1 line of credit from anybody because they now had 2 an 11 billion dollar debt. So those coupled 3 together, the Court said, rendered the supersedeas
4 bond unconstitutional as applied in that case.

5 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I don't know if 6 they really said "unconstitutional." What they did 7 say was that their 1985 theory, it was a taking of 8 property without due process to execute the 9 judgment or to abstract the judgment you had to 10 use state officials, so it was under state law and 11 under the Equity Relief of 42 United States Code, 12 1985. An injunction was appropriate in this 13 case.

14 They go on to talk about a lot of big 15 numbers, which, of course, that case has. But 16 really, the logic to it, I don't think, is 17 differentiated between whether it's 11 billion 18 dollar judgment that one person or one firm has 19 trouble paying or 100 dollar judgment.

20 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): It shouldn't 21 be.

22 PROFESSOR EDGAR: That's right,
23 logically it shouldn't make any difference. And 24 also, there are, I think, approximately 35 states,
25 and I have the statutory references here if you

1 want to examine them, which have a provision 2 similar to our current rule.

3 So I guess, if our statute is 4 unconstitutional across the board, then so is 5 everybody else's. I don't know whether misery 6 loves company is a comforting thought, but any 7 how, I'll just give you that information as well.

8 But in spite of all of that, it was our 9 committee's view that we should have some 10 provision in our rule that in certain types of 11 cases the Court may do something other than 12 require a bond equal to the amount of the 13 judgment.

14 JUDGE WOOD: Let me ask you this 15 question: What would the proposed rule would do 16 under this situation? I know a case where a man 17 worth $200,000, and that's all, is being sued for 18 4 million. The plaintiff probably doesn't have 19 200,000.

20 Now, the judgment is taken for, say, 1
21 million or 500,000, or whatever it is. My man 22 simply, I say "my man", couldn't supersede it, no 23 way in the world. And, on the other hand, if he 24 doesn't, if his stuff served on his 200,000 is 25 gone in the hands of his plaintiff, and by the

1 time he reverses it, if he does, why, that's 2 gone.

3 Would this rule address that, that he ought 4 to be able to put up everything he's got and hold 5 it for a while.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yes.

7 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, I would think
8 so.

9 JUDGE WOOD: I would assume that's the 10 purpose of it.

11 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes.

12 JUDGE WOOD: But I'd be for such a 13 rule, of course.

14 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Well, what's 15 been happening all over the state, but I know I've 16 got six or eight cases just in our firm even 17 before Texaco, is if you get a large judgment, 18 there are two ways to do it. You can make an 19 agreement with the appellee. Now, usually when 20 the plaintiffs lose, they don't lose a million 21 dollars. When they lose, you're usually talking 22 about defendant.

23 But you can make an agreement for cash 24 consideration, or some type of thing, they'll 25 agree not to execute during the appeal. And

1 that's not really good because usually it has, at 2 least, a theoretical conflict between the party
3 and his lawyer whose getting the money or getting 4 part of it.

5 Or what has been done far more frequently in 6 large judgment cases is you go into 7 reorganization, get an injunction. And I know 8 that we had, our business lawyers had, six 9 entities including the Texas Association of 10 Realtors in a reorganization until some -- these 11 were anti-trust cases -- got included into the 12 fifth circuit.

13 All of them were reversed but none of them
14 could have been appealed. And so we find that 15 with the sophisticated client that does have a lot 16 of assets, your playing a lot of games in 17 bankruptcy. And for the nonsophisticated client
18 who doesn't have a lot of assets, they just go 19 under, and there's no relief.

20 And the federal system -- I lost a case for a 21 couple million dollars two years ago and got it 22 reversed in the fifth circuit. And I tried every 23 way in the world not to put a supersedeas. It was 24 Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company. They 25 could have one, but the premium was $68,000 a

1 year.

2 And so they finally cut a deal by putting up
3 some security with a company and got one issued.
4 But I tried every way in the world, even to put up
5 a CD in escrow for the appellee, and they wouldn't 6 do it because, of course, they were trying to 7 negotiate a settlement. And that's not criticism, 8 they just wouldn't do it. It's just their own 9 strategy.

10 But in a federal court you can get it back.
11 I just got a check from them for $16,000 on that 12 supersedeas. But there's no relief. But the 13 relief, even if we gave relief in the State court, 14 doesn't eliminate the problem as Judge Wood is 15 saying, and it's forcing lawyers, in my judgment, 16 to play games with the bankruptcy court. There's 17 not as much tarnish because every other person is 18 in bankruptcy now anyway it seems like.

19 But you go in, you convince the judge of the 20 situation, you get a stay ordered and it just 21 remains dormant for eight months, a year, however 22 long your appeal is. Something really needs to be 23 done, I think.

24 MR. BEARD: It looks like the courts
25 are going to have to have some guidance. One of

1 the problems that the plaintiffs are going to face 2 is that anticipating an adverse judgment, the 3 defendant, one, prefers himself. He puts a lien, 4 if he's got that, to his company for his 5 corporation. He puts liens on all the property to 6 himself. He's the guarantor. He makes sure the 7 banks are covered if he hadn't up to that time.

8 And the preference time is running. So
9 without guidance to the courts, they have got a 10 lot of problems to try to face. Is the party 11 seeking this relief going to file a schedule 12 showing what preferences made within the last 13 year? It's almost like you're going to force them 14 to file a Chapter 11 or bankruptcy petition as 15 part of the proceeding, because a whole lot goes 16 on when the parties are anticipating an adverse 17 judgment.

18 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): There's one
19 other problem, too. And that is, even if you've 20 got the money and the assets for security, 21 insurance companies don't want to sell a 22 supersedeas anymore. The judgments are getting 23 large. You've got the exemplary damage, you've 24 got judgment, prejudgment and postjudgment 25 interest. There are very few companies that would

1 write supersedeas above $500,000 now in the United 2 States.

3 MR. BEARD: We all know one of the 4 ways you settle in a case in Texas you cannot 5 collect from this defendant if you don't have an 6 insurance. So you settle or else, because we'll 7 see you never collect any money. And in Texas, 8 that's generally true; they're very difficult to 9 claim.

10 PROFESSOR EDGAR: We're talking about
11 Rule 364-A, Rusty. We just passed it. And I
12 stated that you had some concern about it.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: First of all, I'd 14 like to have the committee's view as to whether or 15 not David and I and Rusty should even speak to 16 this. We all have some history with it, which we 17 might want us to share. But I don't want to start 18 that unless the committee is willing. Could you 19 see that, at least, Hadley?

20 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I'm recognizing that 21 you do have a professional interest in a case 22 involving this subject. I think we can take that 23 into consideration and listen to what you have to 24 say.

25 MR. NIX: I'd like to hear from you on

1 the experience part of it. After all we're 2 looking for an equitable solution.

3 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Just for the 4 record, there's not a rule that goes by here that 5 every lawyer in here doesn't have some interest in 6 at any time.

7 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): I want to 8 hear what you've got to say. I recognize bias and 9 prejudice.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I was biased
11 and prejudiced on this about two and a half years 12 ago when it started. So that was before I had the 13 case. And that was coming out of another case, 14 actually. The realization that we discovered at 15 that time and I don't know exactly how many 16 million it is -- I think it's like 100 million, 17 but it may be a few hundred million dollars is all 18 the supersedeas money there is in the world.
19 That's all of it. So if it's a few hundred 20 million, we're now talking about seeing verdicts 21 at least that may exceed that.

22 For example, in the construction of nuclear 23 power plants, you run through a few hundred 24 million in a hurry, as everybody at this table 25 knows, because we're probably all serviced by

1 Texas utilities, or most of us, that are involved
2 in those kinds of construction plants right now.

3 And just the world is getting bigger and the 4 numbers are getting bigger. So, even if you could 5 make a supersedeas bond, there are going to be 6 cases that there's not enough supersedeas money in 7 the world to make.

8 But beyond that, in a smaller case, people
9 had a nice business; they got sued. The trial
10 went very close both ways on the evidence. Jury 11 finally came in with a small seven-figure number.
12 And those people could not make that bond and lost 13 their business, and the case was reversed.

14 Just like Judge Wood's $200,000, it didn't 15 make any difference. That was the kind of money
16 that a lot of people look at, a couple of million 17 dollars. And they lost their business and when 18 the case was turned around, there was no way to 19 recover their losses. They could not put Humpty 20 Dumpty back together again.

21 So, this rule really starts from a different 22 place than the litigation that's on file in New 23 York. It came through the Committee on 24 Administration of Justice. It was not in this 25 form at all when it started. And it took about a

1 year there. When it did come out of the Committee
2 on Administration of Justice, there was a very 3 heavy majority, very few dissents, concerning 4 whether or not this rule should be recommended.

5 And the debate had to do primarily with the 6 last paragraph, trying to get words that would 7 impose on the judge that was reviewing the 8 question of supersedeas, whether it be in the 9 trial court or whatever court it's pending in at 10 the time, whether it be in the trial court or the 11 appellate court, to preserve the plaintiff's 12 rights, the plaintiff who has the judgment to the 13 fullest extent possible by language and rule; and 14 we so we got into this.

15 It says, "An order granting, limiting or 16 modifying a stay must provide sufficient 17 conditions for the continuing security of the 18 adverse party to preserve the status quo and the 19 effectiveness of the judgment or order appealed 20 from."

21 Now, for example, a receiver could be 22 appointed for that corporation that was lost. Of 23 course, that corporation would have to pay the 24 bills. And there would have to be some showing 25 that the cash flow of the corporation could pay

1 the bills without reducing its assets in an 2 interim period.

3 An accounting firm or some organization would 4 make reports, frequently, monthly, perhaps, on 5 profits and losses and balance sheets. Those 6 reports to go to the secured party, the judgment
7 creditor and to the Court. At any time that's 8 reviewable under this rule, whether or not the 9 status quo is being preserved and the 10 effectiveness of the judgment is being preserved.

11 Pat Beard's point earlier about, do they have 12 to file schedules? That can be one of these 13 conditions required to be sufficient for the 14 continuing security and to preserve the status 15 quo.

16 MR. BEARD: Luke, aren't you just 17 talking about a Chapter 11. Why should our courts 18 run Chapter 11?

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We're not talking 20 about a Chapter 11 because --

21 MR. BEARD: You're asking the State
22 Court to run the equivalent of 11.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No, I'm not, because 24 I'm not putting every one of that party's 25 creditors into a bankruptcy situation. I'm not

1 putting a party into the bankruptcy situation. I
2 don't have a situation now where the secured 3 creditors come in and want lists of stays to 4 foreclose on the company's real estate asset.

5 All I'm saying is, the company is going to 6 have to -- one of the things may be that this 7 judgment creditor gets a lien of record on all of 8 the assets of that company so that notice to 9 creditors is given.

10 Maybe there's something in lieu of that where 11 the lien does not go of record but the Court and 12 the judgment better monitor the business affairs
13 on a monthly basis or frequent basis. And if it 14 should ever become apparent that there is change, 15 those things would then go of record. And there 16 would be an injunction punishable by contempt 17 against the company and all of its officers that 18 they shall not borrow money without leave of the 19 Court and mortgage any of their assets.

20 MR. BEARD: But it's substantially
21 equivalent of 11 and 13.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It's just not, Pat.
23 Because whenever you go into 11, you have to pull 24 in everybody into that proceeding that touches
25 that business and make them parties. You don't

1 have to do that under 364-A.

2 MR. BEARD: But still the Court is 3 going to have to consider the effect of -- if 4 somebody's out there foreclosing on you, you've 5 got a million dollar equity. You know, somebody 6 has got to consider what the effect of that is 7 going to be on this judgment creditor. I'm just 8 saying, I think it's practically 11 or 13 that 9 you're talking about.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I don't, but 11 it may be. This is a much narrower proceeding in 12 the sense that it goes to just one debt and 13 preserving the status quo for one debt. And it is 14 not the broad proceeding where every debt there is 15 now has to come in, assert its rights of record.
16 This proceeding could be relatively inexpensive 17 compared to an 11 proceeding.

18 MR. BEARD: Well, I think there's no
19 way that you can handle one debt. All creditors 20 are affected when you do that. And that's why my 21 comment to begin with is this Court would have to 22 have a great deal of guidance. They really would 23 have to have schedules.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, maybe.

25 MR. BEARD: A list of questions.

1                   CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'll finish and then
2 I'm not going to chair this part of it. Then 3 we've got the situation where there's a million 4 dollar judgment against the party that's got 5 $200,000. There's a hearing and the Court 6 concludes that's all there is.

7                   The plaintiff is not going to get more than 8 $200,000. That's the status quo, and that's all 9 the security there is for his judgment. Once that 10 is covered then the Court could rule that that's 11 adequate under this rule.

12                   Now if the judgment creditor finds that there 13 are other assets, then Court might rule that full 14 discovery, postjudgment discovery, proceeds so 15 that they can attempt to come back and show the 16 Court there really is more. And if they find some 17 more, do that too.

18                   There could be part supersedeas. If the 19 party could show I can supersede to the extent of 20 $100,000, I can afford that. And I can lien the 21 $200,000 worth of assets that I have, but I can't 22 make more than $100,000 supersedeas; so there can 23 be part.

24                   And then the final one, if the parties have 25 hidden assets in anticipation of judgment, the

1 effectiveness of the judgment to preserve that,
2 the Court would have to enter an order that 3 permitted the freezing of those assets where they 4 are.

5 And that might require the agreement of the 6 persons holding those assets to freeze them.
7 Because if they were not frozen there and if there 8 was not some alternative relief granted, that 9 judgment creditor could file suit to set aside 10 those transfers in violation of rights of 11 creditors immediately upon the getting of the 12 judgment.

13 So the courts say, "Look, either you get 14 those frozen where they are, and the Court 15 monitors them, or I'm not going to give you any 16 relief." You can either file supersedeas bond or 17 the plaintiff is going to be able to go after 18 those assets.

19 Now, all of those types of things and 20 anything else that you can imagine that would go 21 towards preserving the status quo assets held 22 wherever they are, and not subject to diminution, 23 and the effectiveness of the judgment, that is, 24 preserve the ability to pay that judgment in the 25 same shape it's in when the judgment is granted,

1 would fulfill the two points that are mandatory.
2 They're not discretionary; they're mandatory in 3 this third paragraph.

4 Now, as far as reviewability is concerned, 5 what the trial court does is reviewable in the 6 Court of Appeals by the express language of this 7 order of this rule. Because either the party from 8 which an appeal is taken or to which the appeal is 9 taken has the power to monitor for preservation of 10 the status quo and the preservation of the 11 effectiveness of the judgment at all times.

12 So that's, in a nutshell, I think, a couple 13 of years' work in the COAJ, and that's the end of 14 it.

15 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Sam, do you want to 16 speak?

17 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Yes. I've 18 got a basic, just a philosophical problem. I've 19 noticed that courts and juries sometimes disagree 20 on their feelings about how a case should turn, at 21 least, start off with that premise.

22 But I keep hearing about the person that 23 loses that gets it reversed later on. What about 24 the man that wins and it's appealed and he still 25 wins? I haven't had this situation myself.

1           But you take a fight over a closely held 2 corporation or a partnership and one man has been 3 excluded and he tries it in court and he wins.
4 And a stay is issued by the Court because the 5 judge might have thought the other party -- you 6 know, but a jury disagrees. That man is being 7 deprived of his winnings for the next two or three 8 years, if you want to put it that way. And he 9 wins on appeal.

10           And yet while it's going on, the other person 11 that he's been fighting has been paying himself a 12 half million dollar year salary -- I mean the 13 money -- you are getting into Chapter 11, just 14 like Pat's talking about.

15           And then it gets down to preferential 16 payments and you say, "well, the guy has got to 17 pay it back." He doesn't have it. He's in the 18 Caymen Islands, you know. There are problems
19 on both sides of this thing, is what I'm 20 saying.

21           The person that prevails at the trial court 22 level and gets a judgment would seem to have some 23 rights, too. In my opinion, more so than the man 24 that loses because I believe in our system of 25 trials and juries.

1 MR. LOW: The only experience I've had 2 with that -- Gilbert and I were just talking.
3 We've had a rule like this in Beaumont that judges 4 at least on one or maybe more occasions, have 5 applied, and the other side just decided not to 6 mandamus him. We had a situation where it was a
7 pretty closely held company. And just like Sam
8 was talking about, one side won.

9 And this fellow who is still a judge there 10 right now made him put up 100,000 supersedeas and 11 he said, "I'm going to keep everything at status 12 quo. You're not going to pay yourself anymore," 13 and any details. So it would just be maintained 14 like it was rather than coming in and interrupting 15 and have, you know, somebody else taking over the 16 business that other people might not want to deal 17 with just to keep it running as smooth as it 18 could.

19 That plaintiff prevailed on appeal. He ended
20 up getting it. But in the meanwhile, he got, you 21 know, the whole thing. I'm not saying it works 22 that way everytime but it sure did that time,
23 didn't it, Gilbert?

24 MR. BEARD: We have a bench of trial
25 level and appellate level that substantially knows

1 nothing about bankruptcy law. All this bankruptcy
2 litigation and all has really come along since 3 most of the members of the court went on the 4 bench.

5 You know it's only since '73 or '74 that so 6 much of your bankruptcy litigations began for this 7 part of the country, as far as I'm concerned. The 8 Court is going to have a difficult time 9 understanding just what all the problems are.

10 I guess what I'm saying is, the threshold 11 issue that the courts should decide is that 12 Chapter 11 and 13 is not an appropriate remedy.
13 And, you know, it can be that a company or a man 14 cannot operate under 11 or 13 for whatever 15 reasons, but that they have to cross that 16 threshold. That's not a proper remedy before we 17 apply these.

18 MR. BRANSON: I had a question. Did 19 we cross the threshold question of whether we we 20 were going to address this issue?

21 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes. This was 22 placed on the floor as the first item of 23 business.

24 MR. BRANSON: I know. But last time
25 it was tabled because we had several members of

1 the committee who had involvements and we didn't 2 want to do anything, even though proper in nature, 3 that might appear or have the appearance of 4 improprieties. Did we address that issue 5 already?

6 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes. At the last 7 meeting the committee appointed the subcommittee 8 of which I was Chairman, and Broadus Spivey and 9 Sam Sparks of El Paso were members. And we made a 10 report before you got here. And now we're 11 addressing the issue. So it is an item which was 12 placed on the floor for this meeting. Is that 13 your question?

14 MR. BRANSON: Yes. And I'd like to go
15 on record opposing that. Because I really don't 16 think it's appropriate with the high percentage of 17 members on this committee who have involvement in 18 that case for the committee to make 19 recommendations to a court who has no involvement 20 in the case.

21 Even though I agree that all the members of 22 this committee, particularly those who have 23 interest in the case, are really above reproach on 24 the issue in the political times in which we 25 exist, I just think appearance could cause damage

1 to the reputation of the committee and perhaps the 2 Court.

3 MR. NIX: Hadley, you mentioned
4 earlier that Rusty had some problem of a
5 constitutional nature. Did you say --

6 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I just said he had a
7 question about it that I wanted him to address.

8 MR. NIX: All right. I see.

9 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Before you got 10 here several people stated that we would like to 11 have everybody's input if they felt like they 12 could give it. Because I don't think there's a 13 rule that comes up where every person sitting at 14 this table doesn't have a case that relates to 15 either the rule, even in discovery, or, I bet, 16 everybody at this table has some potential case 17 right now, if not an actual case, that involves 18 Rule 364-A.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let me make this 20 clear right now on the record. Since Frank 21 Branson made the remarks that he has just made and 22 gone on record in the way he has, I'm going to 23 leave this meeting. And I'm not coming back until 24 this issue is resolved. Because I don't want 25 there being anything in any brief that quotes that

1 that record that's just been made, without it 2 being clear, that when it was made, that this 3 Chairman left this room. So I'm gone.

4 MR. BEARD: Well, I think the record
5 should be clear that we asked for your opinion 6 recognizing your conflict.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But that was before
8 Branson's comment, and I can't stay here after 9 that. I'll see you. Let me know when this issue 10 has been resolved.

11 JUDGE WOOD: Well, if that's the case,
12 I've got a situation just the same way involving 13 exactly the same manner. So I guess I ought to 14 leave too.

15 MR. MCCONNICO: I guess I was going to 16 say exactly what Sam said. Everyone of us has an 17 experience on this rule, and I think that's why 18 we're here. We're not here to speak about our 19 cases, just our experience on how this proposal
20 might help the law of the State of Texas.

21 And what I was going to respond to, what Pat 22 was saying, is, this isn't going to stop people 23 from going into bankruptcy. If it's to their 24 advantage to go into Chapter 11, they're going to 25 go into Chapter 11 regardless of this rule.

1           My experience with this, a little variation
2 of this rule, it's been very easy to enforce.
3 We've had oil and gas cases where there's been a 4 reservoir being drained. And the only thing the 5 person draining the reservoir, the only asset they 6 had was that reservoir. And the only thing the 7 plaintiff had was the judgment for the drainage.

8           Well, if you let -- the party draining the 9 reservoir could not put up a supersedeas bond.
10 And so what happens is then, are you going to 11 continue to allow the defendant to drain the 12 reservoir? Because if he does, the plaintiff 13 doesn't have a judgment. It's no good. He's 14 out.

15           So the Court has put in an injunction and 16 said, "No. You're not going to continue draining 17 the reservoir while it's on appeal." It's very 18 simple and everybody was satisfied. So I think in 19 a practical situation where we've applied this 20 rule, it's worked. And, of course, we've never 21 had this rule, but to be honest about it, we've 22 all had variations of this rule applied in 23 practice.

24                           PROFESSOR EDGAR: Any further
25 discussion?

1 MR. MCMAINS: Let the record reflect,
2 as everybody has probably noticed, that I am still 3 in the room. In regards to Steve's last comment, 4 our supersedeas rules have been developed
5 extensively over the years to accommodate 6 situations in which monetary damages was not the 7 only thing in the judgment.

8 If there's anything else in the judgment, 9 there are all kinds of discretionary rules that 10 apply with regards to injunctions, et cetera;
11 that's already in the rule. We're talking about a 12 monetary judgment and what is the protection.

13 For the record, I was on the subcommittee 14 that examined this rule for the Appellate Rules of 15 Procedure, in fact, when we were going to put them 16 in, which examination was done in the spring, 17 summer and fall. Our last subcommittee broke, 18 and, in fact, I think Steve was there, in 19 September long before any of us, at least, any of 20 us in this room at the present time, were involved 21 in Texaco/Pennzoil litigations.

22 And my feeling at the time was antagonism to 23 the rule, both philosophically, and the merits of 24 this rule as written, which I find to be rather 25 markedly deficient in standard. And the 1 subcommittee voted it down.

2 Now, I'm not sure whether Steve dissented or 3 not; I don't remember. But we had Steve there, we 4 had Judge Guittard there, we had Judge Tunks
5 there. Bill Dorsaneo, myself. And the committee
6 substantially voted not to recommend the adoption 7 of the rule for a number of various specific 8 reasons.

9 And it's only to give you the flavor of those 10 reasons that I can stay. And if the committee
11 would like me to leave, then I'll take my cigar
12 with me and I'll be glad to do so.

13 My concern from a philosophical standpoint of 14 this rule is much in line with Pat's. And that 15 is, that there are federal remedies, in terms of 16 bankruptcy, for what happens when somebody gets in 17 deep water in debt, whether it results in a 18 judgment or doesn't result in a judgement, whether 19 it's early on in the game or late in the game.

20 And the federal bankruptcy courts are set up 21 to manage that to protect all the creditors'
22 relative rights. I think, just from what you 23 heard Luke's description of what he expected our 24 trial courts to be doing, it gives you an idea of 25 the incredible administrative task with virtually

1 no guidelines, no rules. At least the bankruptcy 2 courts have rules; they may not follow them very 3 often. But they have a whole bunch of them and 4 the people who practice in those courts have some 5 good idea of what's going on. And they have some 6 pretty hard clashes on procedural things that 7 occur with regard to everyday transactions.

8 But the example that I heard which I didn't 9 hear the complete of was somebody could only 10 afford $200,000 so you put up $200,000 and that 11 maintains the status quo. Well, they inherit a 12 million the next week. But your judgment stayed;
13 you haven't bothered to look. You don't know 14 about it. And you find out about it when the guy 15 has left for Monte Carlo. You don't have -- 16 unless you appoint a receiver in every case, that 17 you don't get a supersedeas bond. And, in 18 essence, a bankruptcy trustee and closely 19 administered.

20 I just tell you my experience, which has been 21 some more substantial than I wanted to be recently 22 with defendants in bankruptcy court, has been 23 rather atrocious in terms of being able to get 24 much done. But that's the reason that there's so 25 much protection. And they're geared and set up

1 for that. And if that is, in fact, a remedy that 2 is available to a judgment debtor, you cannot 3 otherwise secure a supersedeas bond if it's only a 4 money judgment.

5 Now, I want to make just one point. I'm not 6 attempting to prejudice anybody or any statement.
7 I think the committee has already concluded, the 8 subcommittee, as I understand it, was charged with 9 the idea of examining constitutionality of these 10 rules, and determined that you didn't have any 11 problems with -- or didn't think that was an 12 issue, essentially.

13 And I agree because a lot of people have, 14 while they criticize or not have understood the 15 Texaco/Pennzoil litigation -- the fact of the 16 matter is the essence, as I perceive it, of the 17 inadequacy of post-appellate stay procedures in 18 Texas, was not just the supersedeas bonds. In 19 fact, that wasn't even the principal problem.

20 The principal problem is the statute. It's 21 abstracting judgments, which gives you an 22 immediate lien which puts companies that have any 23 substantial debt or any substantial agreements not 24 to create debt in default immediately.

25 So that the only remedy they have then is a

1 Chapter 11 proceeding. That's fine if a Chapter
2 11 proceeding will give you the protection. It 3 doesn't give you international protection. So in 4 a multi-national corporation there are some 5 problems with regards to exactly how you've 6 administered it.

7 And that's really -- generally, we're not 8 going to be talking about -- and I think that the 9 Texaco case was kind of a one in a billion, if you 10 will. But in terms of a multi-national 11 corporation not being able to make supersedeas on 12 money judgment, the -- whenever I reviewed this on 13 the subcommittee -- we are not unusual, this state 14 is not unusual, in terms of requiring a 15 supersedeas bond or other security to avoid a stay 16 in the full amount of the judgment of a monetary 17 judgment. That is the rule rather than the 18 exception across the state.

19 The Rule 41 procedure in Federal Court is 20 substantially different and substantially not 21 used. I think Buddy probably, in all his 22 experience, very seldom has had a stay of judgment 23 without full protection in terms of the level of 24 the bond. And this rule almost encourages its 25 regularity of use which is what gets the courts in

1 administrative postures that they ought not be in 2 right now.

3 But the final philosophical problem I have 4 with it is just from a standpoint of what type of 5 litigation that I do. And this is purely 6 personal, purely prejudicial, I suppose and bias, 7 and I throw it out with that exposure and 8 reference.

9 Most of the litigation in this state
10 involving people who want to partially supersede
11 are not private litigants. They're insurance
12 company representatives. They're individual 13 defendants who are represented by an insurance 14 company who's got limited coverage, who basically,
15 at least in my experience in all the cases that I 16 have that are extra limits cases on appeal, every 17 single one of them could have been settled within 18 limits.

19 And what you're doing, basically, is with 20 those, you essentially relieve all of the 21 pressure, or substantially diminish the pressure, 22 that is put on the movement of litigation in the 23 first place.

24 That is the risk of a trial of a case in a
25 limit situation in an insurance policy situation.

1 That is the precise place where movement of 2 litigation through the courts by settlement, which 3 is the thing that I think basically is the only 4 way we're going to get out of a lot of fixes that 5 we have, in terms of the docket load. That's 6 where it ought too come in, is from that.

7 And, like I say, this is a pure-docket
8 oriented problem. But when an insurance company 9 is controlling the handling of litigation, knowing 10 full well that they have the availability of 11 remedies, post-judgment for the ostensible 12 protection of the insured and the actual 13 protection of them, that basically postpones all 14 efforts at maintaining any kind of a Stowers 15 (phonetic) action or anything else for the 16 pendency of the appeal, which these days in Corpus 17 Christi, Texas in significant cases means,
18 basically, it takes me three years to come 19 anywhere close to getting through the Supreme 20 Court, because I'm in the Court of Appeals 21 fighting around for 18 months.

22 Now, we don't even know, in terms of 23 substantive law, when the statute of limitations
24 starts to run on a Stowers (phonetic) claim. You 25 may have to be trying to litigate that at the same

1 time that the other case is on appeal if there is 2 no supersedeas. So there is arguably some damage 3 to the rights of the insured if he's subjected to 4 receivership or something. I suppose that's 5 damage that could give rise to a Stowers claim.

6 But at any rate, from a standpoint of the 7 insurance docket, and from giving insurance 8 companies the benefit of their handling and or 9 alleged mishandling of lawsuits, ostensibly 10 protecting the little men, I am really offended by 11 that notion and from a philosophical standpoint.

12 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I want to call on 13 David next. But first, I don't know whether you 14 intended this, Rusty, but in response to your 15 remark about Steve's case, even in Steve's case, 16 under current law, a bond is required. And I
17 don't think he meant to imply that only cases 18 involving money judgments required bonds.

19 MR. MCMAINS: No. What I'm saying is 20 there is much discretion, much supplemental orders
21 that can be done, and the parties have much 22 broader view to working with each other when 23 they're talking about, in general litigation
24 matters, in specific performance or injunctive 25 relief or that sort of thing or even modifications

1 of the bond.

2 MR. MCCONNICO: In my example, that's 3 not injunctive relief. You know, that is a money
4 damage. If you sue someone on drainage of an oil
5 and gas field, what you get is a money damage. So 6 we're talking about the same money damage award
7 that you would get in a PI case.

8 MR. MCMAINS: But, of course, you have 9 a remedy of putting them into the receivership 10 anyway if there's not a posting of the supersedeas 11 bond. That's what I mean.

12 We have available remedies for the judgment
13 debtor if there's not protection by the bond. You 14 have alternatives either receivership or force 15 them into a Chapter 11 which will give them the 16 capital.

17 MR. MCCONNICO: But that's the 18 problem; we don't want to put them in Chapter 11.
19 So we have been using a variation of this proposal 20 in the past and it's worked.

21 And, you know, I can give two examples of 22 drainage cases in South Texas that I'm very 23 familiar with. One of them I worked up the case 24 and tried and the other one's in our law firm. And 25 we use both of these and it worked in both cases.

1           We're just saying, you know, "You're going to 2 stop draining this oil field, although you cannot 3 put up two and a half to three million dollars 4 during the pendency of the appeal."

5           MR. MCMAINS: But as you point out,
6 it's a fact that you have the leverage that you 7 had, is the point that would make them be 8 reasonable, is what I'm saying. They would have 9 -- with the existence of this rule, you would have 10 been fighting in court in my judgment on 11 adversarial levels for something they could have 12 kept a whole lot more.

13           Maybe your judge wouldn't have given it to 14 you, but maybe he would. Maybe he would have done 15 a lot worse for you and you wouldn't have been 16 able to do it. It's the leverage that you have 17 that gives you the ability to agree. There's 18 always the ability to enter into some kind of 19 waiver or an agreement under the situations. But 20 without the absolute rules that are available in 21 monetary judgment cases you don't have a
22 bargaining position to accommodate from. You end 23 up fighting it out in front of the trial judge, 24 who has a tendency, first of all, not to have time 25 to want to consider it, and certainly not to have

1 time to put somebody into receivership to report
2 to him all the time.

3 If there were to actually be implemented 4 substitute remedies to absolutely preserve the 5 priority of that judgment in time, it would 6 require regular monitoring of virtually every 7 defendant's activities -- defendant judgment.

8 Anything less than that is not full 9 protection. And that's just not anything 10 different than appointing a receiver in every 11 case. As it stands, we don't have hardly any 12 guidance. We have no standards for appellate 13 review. Good cause for modification, I don't know 14 what that means.

15 MR. MCCONNICO: Well, this rule does 16 not take away any leverage from a plaintiff if you
17 compare it to a personal injury situation than a 18 plaintiff in a commercial case that I was just 19 talking about.

20 This rule doesn't take away, that I can see, 21 any leverage from someone that has a judgment. He 22 still has his judgment. All he's trying to do is 23 to make sure he can execute on that judgment. And 24 it's a lot harder to execute once somebody's in 25 Chapter 11.

1           If what we're trying to do here is to prevent 2 defendants from going into Chapter 11, all we're 3 doing is writing something in the long run that 4 can benefit both plaintiffs and defendants.

5           MR. MCMAINS: But what I am telling 6 you is that I disagree wholeheartedly if you say 7 that this does not reduce your leverage. Because 8 I think that you're going to go to the courthouse 9 first with this. Right now you know what the 10 alternative extremes are. You execute immediately
11 or provide for your post-judgment remedies 12 immediately unless they post on a full bond, or 13 they go to Chapter 11.

14           If neither one of you want that to happen,
15 then you've got something to work out. You know 16 what your positions are and you know what the 17 ultimate -- what's going to happen to you if one 18 or the other step has to be taken.

19           This is going to mandate the litigation of 20 that issue and not the negotiation of the issue.
21 And that's what I contend is going to happen.

22           MR. BECK: I have two questions, one 23 to you and one for Rusty. The question to you is, 24 is it your notion that if this committee
25 recommends a rule of this type to the Supreme

1 Court, that it would or would not affect cases 2 presently on appeal?

3 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I have no thought on 4 that. I haven't thought of it. I don't know.

5 MR. BECK: I guess my comment would be 6 that if there's the concern among the members of 7 the committee along the lines of that expressed by 8 Frank, one way to handle that, that is, the high 9 visibility of the Pennzoil case and possible
10 reverberations in the media about us tampering 11 with rules that affect such a highly visible
12 case.

13 One way to handle that would be to make any 14 rule inapplicable to cases in which appeals have 15 already been perfected. My question to Rusty is, 16 Rusty, do I understand then that you,
17 conceptually, are just opposed to any rule which 18 would provide for any stay of enforcement of any 19 judgment?

20 MR. MCMAINS: Do you mean as a money
21 judgment for less than posting of either money 22 substitute securities?

23 MR. BECK: Right.

24 MR. MCMAINS: See, I don't have a
25 problem with the substitute security rule in terms

1 of stock or other liquid assets. We made a move
2 in that in our Appellate Rules for the first
3 time. It required something other than cash as a 4 possibility, but it still had to be government
5 bank instruments. You could use CD's.

6 There may be alternative liquid-type security 7 that could be devisable, but anything less than 8 the full amount of the judgment -- I fear the same
9 as San Angelo Sam pointed out, that a trial judge 10 who differs from a jury, whichever way, could well 11 substitute his judgment in bonding requirements 12 and have the same impact as if he just --

13 In fact, from your standpoint, I'm not sure
14 -- and I just throw this out from a defendant's 15 philosophical standpoint. If you've got somebody 16 that's able to pay, although, like I say, an 17 insurance company who has agreed to sign on the 18 hook. But by the same token, the insured doesn't.
19 And this is talking about a judge of debtor. The 20 insurance company is not a judge of debtor. If 21 you get that kind of relief, that may well 22 discourage courts, trial courts, from genuinely 23 considering remittitur points and saying, "Well, 24 we'll just wait and see what has happened," 25 because I'll make that argument in this rule.

1 I'll say, "You don't have to mess with this; no
2 hardship on anybody. We won't require 3 supersedeas. We'll just go ahead and let it go 4 up, or you can agree to this modification and that 5 modification."

6 I think it distorts, really, the function of 7 the trial courts, what they should be, considering 8 the real impact of the judgment is.

9 MR. BRANSON: What is the history of 10 this rule? When did the current rule come into 11 existence?

12 PROFESSOR EDGAR: The rule we now 13 have?

14 MR. BRANSON: Yes.

15 PROFESSOR EDGAR: It came from the 16 statutes.

17 MR. MCMAINS: It was by statute prior 18 -- it's been in, I know, at least since 1911, and 19 I'm sure it was before that.

20 PROFESSOR EDGAR: It was Article 2270
21 2271, probably at least by about 1925.

22 MR. BRANSON: What are the 23 philosophical reasons for the rule having been 24 passed some 60, 70 years ago and having been in 25 existence that long? Why have we needed it all

1 that long on something we don't need?

2 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Judge Wallace wanted
3 to say something.

4 JUSTICE WALLACE: One thing that I
5 think we ought to consider and it's just a choice
6 to be made, and that is, what are you going to do 7 on appellate review once this trial judge, if he's 8 the one who determines the substitute security?

9 Because the only review you have is abuse of 10 discretion. We've said abuse of discretion is a 11 violation of the clear principles of the law. And 12 there's no clear principles of any kind in the 13 rules. So, in effect, you've got no appellate 14 review, as I see it, as the rules are written 15 now. And I wanted to throw that out to you.

16 MR. MCMAINS: Another comment that I
17 have about the form of this rule: This rule
18 allows you to go for the first time to the Court 19 of Appeals or the Supreme Court because it's 20 whatever court it's appealed to and just ask them
21 to do something. And it increases the original 22 motion practice, which basically is a fact-finding 23 power in the Appellate Court which, is a very 24 strange animal to me.

25 I don't imagine any of our courts or appeals

1 want that power, frankly, and I don't think the 2 Supreme Court does. And I'd assume that at the 3 very minimum any fact findings or anything else in 4 fact determinations would have to be made at the 5 trial court level first before you bothered to go
6 upstairs. And then as you say, we've got problems 7 with how it is that you review it.

8 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO):

9 Philosophically, I have to say that I've always 10 been opposed to Rusty's theory of abandoning the 11 remedies of trial on appeals with regard to, if 12 insurance companies have enough coverage, it ought 13 to be settled and get the dockets in current 14 shape.

15 But I've got two questions because it appears 16 to me that some type of security under this rule 17 as proposed or a similar rule puts a judgment 18 creditor in better shape than if the party goes 19 into bankruptcy. I pose that as a question 20 because I don't do any bankruptcy law, but 21 everything I hear from my bankruptcy law partners
22 makes me think that there's not anything very fair 23 over there.

24 And the second comment is: Rusty said
25 something about the federal courts having this

1 similar ruling. I know in the Western District
2 the judges will not do anything unless you have a 3 supersedeas bond because of the Texas rule. They 4 just won't let you have any. I've tried equal 5 security and an escrow account with a national 6 bank.

7 MR. MCMAINS: I'm just saying it is in 8 the rule. I mean, it is a federal rule.

9 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): The judge's 10 don't intepret it that way. But my question is, 11 if you have an individual security circumstance on 12 a particular judgment, and I'm asking the 13 plaintiff's lawyers, primarily, aren't you better
14 off than in the federal court, in a general
15 reorganization? It seems to me it would be; I 16 don't know.

17 MR. LOW: Let me add to one thing that 18 Frank said. And I'm not making a suggestion; I'm 19 just bringing it out. The Pennzoil/Texaco case 20 has gotten down to the point they're even 21 attempting to attach records of what Judge Casseb 22 said, put everything in the record.

23 And I have no doubt but what they would some 24 way attempt to put the record of the 25 recommendation of this committee in there to show,

1 well, if you change it -- they knew it was wrong,
2 they wouldn't change it. I mean, you know, they 3 may not. I'm just saying that's just something
4 you may want to consider. I'm not saying that I 5 would vote to not do something now, but that's one 6 thing going through my mind.

7 Because you've raised a good point that 8 almost any rule which passed has cases pending on 9 it. But most of them aren't focused upon just 10 like this one, and I'm afraid they would even 11 attempt to attach to the records of this 12 proceeding of the recommendation of this Committee 13 just to show that the Supreme Court Advisory 14 Committee, regardless of the people being on it, 15 I'm not saying that the Supreme Court Advisory 16 Committee knew something was wrong with it and 17 recommended it.

18 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Are you moving to 19 table?

20 MR. LOW: No, I'm not moving. But I'm 21 not sure that's what I'm saying. I'm just simply 22 saying that's something we ought to consider.

23 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Hadley, I'm 24 kind of like everybody at Texaco. It doesn't 25 bother me or Pennzoil or either one of them. If

1 you've got rules that need to be changed, they 2 need to be changed. I just don't think this one 3 needs to be changed, and I wanted to respond to 4 what Steve was saying.

5 Steve, in your cases on the drainage of the 6 fields, if you win, you've got a choice. You're 7 making a conscious negotiating decision for your 8 client or your client is participating in it.
9 Whether to just shut the field down and not drain 10 it anymore.

11 But if you've got this rule into effect, 12 you've got a judge that says, "shut the field 13 down." And the plaintiff, if that was done three 14 years ago, oil was $45 a barrel and now it's 12.
15 And he's lost a fortune when he wins on review;
16 because oil may never get to 45 again. So you 17 have imposed, as Judge Wallace says, a 18 discretionary call by a trial judge that costs 19 your client a fortune. I agree it may be 20 happening right now, but your clients did it by 21 negotiation by choice. It wasn't just imposed 22 upon me. And it's that philosophical difference 23 that bothers me.

24 MR. MCCONNICO: Sam, you still in my 25 situation, the fact situation I gave, we have to

1 go to the trial judge and ask for that 2 injunction. It's not a decision that we make.
3 We're the plaintiff. We're being drained by 4 someone else.

5 Now, that someone else cannot put up the 6 bond. There's no way they can make the bond to 7 cover our judgment. The only thing they have is 8 that field. And since they can -- if it goes up 9 on appeal, they're allowed to continue draining 10 the field. The only asset that we ever have we 11 can collect on is gone.

12 So we make the choice, the plaintiff makes 13 the choice to enjoin the drainage, and to ask the 14 Judge to enjoin the drainage. But, yes, the 15 plaintiff is making that choice, okay.

16 Because at least there we can recover
17 something. We can have something we can hold on 18 to. And to me this rule is giving the same 19 situation because you're going to have a lot of 20 people -- like Luke said before he left, there's 21 only so many millions of dollars out there for 22 bonds. And there are a lot more judgments
23 floating around than there is money to put up 24 those bonds.

25 MR. BRANSON: I don't believe that.

1           Statistics do not bear that out. That is a part 2           of this alleged crisis we're hearing it is 3           absolutely crap. A Pennzoil bond may not be able 4           to be made. We've managed to practice law in this 5           state under this rule for 76 years before Pennzoil
6           and Texaco started screwing each other. They 7           happen to have done it at higher levels than the 8           ordinary citizen in this state is accustomed to.

9           And I do not believe there are more than 10          hundreds of millions of dollars worth of judgments
11          -- pendings out there that an insurance company
12          cannot write a supersedeas bond for and for a 13          premium won't do it. And there are no statistics 14          before this committee that bear that out.

15                   MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Let me provide 16          some. I've got cases right now where companies 17          who are worth far more than the judgment can't buy 18          a supersedeas because insurance companies aren't 19          selling supersedeas right now.

20                   MR. BRANSON: Perhaps the thing to do 21          is address the insurance problem rather than 22          attempting to reform the substantive law of the 23          state.

24                   MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): The problem is, 25          if you can't buy a supersedeas bond, even if you

1 could afford to do so, we've got a rule that just 2 leaves the problem impossible. That's what we're 3 doing.

4 MR. BECK: I don't think we're going
5 to solve the alleged or actual court reform
6 problems today. And I would suggest that we may 7 have discussed this point enough and hope that 8 somebody would move the question or move something 9 so we can --

10 MR. BEARD: Let me point out, you 11 know, later on today if we get to it, under my 12 subcommittee we have a proposal to change 621-A, 13 which allows discovery as soon as the judgment is 14 rendered, so long as no supersedeas bond has been 15 posted.

16 Now, I recommended to my subcommittee that we 17 not change that rule, and no one responded to the 18 contrary. So you have a corollary -- you know, 19 somebody doesn't want any discovery once they get 20 the judgment.

21 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Is there any further
22 discussion. All right, Gil.

23 MR. ADAMS: I move we reject this 24 proposed rule.

25 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Is there second?

1 MR. BEARD: Second.

2 PROFESSOR EDGAR: All right. Is there
3 any further discussion?

4 MR. BECK: I would like the record to 5 reflect that I'm not participating in the vote.

6 PROFESSOR EDGAR: The record will 7 reflect that David Beck and Rusty McMains have 8 excused themselves while this vote was being 9 taken. Judge Wood has also excused himself and 10 that Luke Soules has left the room and will not be 11 voting.

12 All right. All those in favor of the motion 13 to reject this rule, raise their hands. 8 in 14 favor of the motion. All against raise their 15 hands. 4. The motion passes 8 to 4. All right.
16 Next item of business, let's get Soules in here.

18 (Off the record discussion
19 (ensued.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Let's get 21 back on the record now. Of course, I've been out 22 of the room until we resumed at this point. I 23 want to make that clear.

24 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I have a
25 motion. I don't even know if it's in order; you

1 can make it in order. But I move that the 2 transcript of the discussion on Rule 364-A not be 3 prepared.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's overruled.
5 I'm just not going to agree to it. I want it 6 prepared for me if it's not prepared here, because 7 if it's stricken, it's just going to look worse, 8 and I just don't want it done.

9 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): In response
10 to that --

11 MR. LOW: Well, I think what Sam's 12 getting at is it not that it not be prepared, but 13 it not be getting into the hands of just 14 everybody.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No way.

16 SAM SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): I object to 17 this whole line of discussion. I think everything 18 we're doing here is above board and certainly can 19 be seen by anybody in the world.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Absolutely.

21
22 (Off the record discussion
23 ensued.)

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: When I was driving
25 up this morning, I got to thinking about the

1 Administrative Rules aspects. And it is 2 troublesome to me, the point that was raised 3 late. And I'd like to get your input on whether 4 we should have a special subcommittee on this. We 5 may or we may not have a chance to look back at 6 those rules.

7 What is most troublesome about it to me is,
8 as I think I about Rules 3, 4 and 5, I'm more 9 impressed with the fact that those do belong in 10 the Rules of Civil Procedure as they give guidance 11 to lawyers about how they're supposed to conduct 12 their civil proceedings.

13 On the other hand, they do not contain much 14 about -- that directs trial judges, how they 15 handle the problems that are there in 3, 4 and 5.
16 And it seems to me that we may need a committee to 17 carefully look at those, and to the extent they 18 are, indeed, administrative, leave them in, those 19 parts that are administrative and directed to 20 judges who are the administrators; the lawyers are 21 not.

22 And then the other parts of those rules that 23 are instructive to lawyers as to how you handle 24 civil proceedings, before those judges who are 25 administrative, be put in the rules. And that's

1 not going to be an easy task. But I'm troubled by 2 not having directives to lawyers in the Rules of 3 Civil Procedure, and the Administrative Rules then 4 can tell the judges how they're supposed to run
5 their dockets and handle any business. And I do 6 want your input.

7 MR. SPIVEY: Luke, would that mean
8 that a subcommittee would study the rules with a 9 limited suggestion you'd made or, are we going to 10 get an opportunity to have some substantive debate 11 about the rules themselves?

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, we've had 13 that, and we can have it some more if we get a 14 chance. But this is a troublesome aspect to me
15 that we just have not dealt with. And we are a 16 rules committee first and foremost, although, 17 obviously, our jurisdiction runs all the way to 18 helping locate facilities for the Court.

19 I'm talking about a committee to do that 20 narrow thing, which is going to be a big job. But 21 it's a narrow assignment in the sense that the 22 scope of the assignment is one thing, but it's a 23 lot of work, probably will be a lot of work.
24 What's your view on that?

25 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Luke, it seems

1 to me, and following up what Broadus was saying, 2 that no matter how you isolate the portion of 3 those rules which anybody thinks should be in the 4 Rules of Civil Procedure, then what do you do with 5 it? It seems like it would have to come back to 6 the committee.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's what I mean.
8 I mean an interim committee to say that the rules 9 that deal with the assignment of cases should be 10 put in the Rules of Civil Procedure where the 11 rules now deal with assignment of cases. And the 12 rules that affect discovery be put in the 13 discovery rules, either in scope or maybe a new 14 timing provision. And the ones that go to 166 be 15 put in 166.

16 And I'm not identifying all the points 17 because I haven't had time to. But we now have 18 leg traps here, the Administrative Rules traps.
19 We now have leg requirements in the Administrative 20 Rules for lawyers representing clients that have 21 serious consequences if they're not observed, and 22 they're not in the Rules of Civil Procedure.

23 And when driving up here today, it occurred 24 to me that they're really not administrative;
25 they're directive to the lawyers how you handle

1 your cases. On the other hand, how judges are to 2 administer their dockets, I guess, is 3 administrative. And I think if the rules come 4 down, one of the biggest contributions that we may 5 be able to make is to get those rules where they 6 may belong to give guidance to the practice of law 7 as opposed to maybe things creating some 8 confusion.

9 MR. MORRIS: The only thing I'm 10 thinking, Luke, is, of course, that this whole 11 Task Force thing is in response to some 12 legislation. And there are going to be hearings
13 at the State Bar Convention on this matter. And I
14 think there's a tremendous amount of controversy
15 about whether any of this is desirable by people 16 from all walks of life, no matter what side of the 17 docket.

18 And I would hate to see it be in any way 19 where part of that was peeled off and put over in 20 here as if it was a regular Rules of Procedure
21 amendment. But it's really being perceived as a 22 real major change in the way we handle our cases.
23 And I'd hate to see -- there's already a lot of 24 comment and a lot of criticism, frankly, that this 25 thing is being handled in a rather high-handed

1 fashion at the Task Force level.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Lefty, I'm sorry to 3 interrupt you. We debated that on Thursday. And 4 if you have a point to make about whether we ought 5 to do, what I'm asking, that we've got a lot of 6 other work to do, and we can't redebate.

7 MR. MORRIS: I'm trying to make my 8 point. And maybe I'm not doing a very good job of 9 it. I'm not being critical of anyone, Luke. The 10 point I'm trying to make is that perception out 11 there in the Bar is that this thing has been on 12 the fast track anyway. So I think that until some 13 hearings have been held, and further determination 14 has been made whether we should go further with 15 it, that our committee shouldn't pick to get 16 involved in it.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: A view may prevail
18 that these rules be effective before the 19 legislature convenes. I'll just tell you this.
20 So, if we're going to do this, we need to do it by 21 September, what I'm talking about right now.

22 Whether it goes hand and glove with the 23 legislative hearings, whether it goes hand and 24 glove with the promulgation of the Administrative 25 Rules, whether we tell the Court that we want to

1 do this job and we would like to have an 2 opportunity to get it done by September before
3 they promulgate these rules to be effective before 4 the legislature convenes, we have got to make that 5 decision today. Because if we don't, we may not 6 have the opportunity to make it again.

7 And whichever way it goes is fine. I just do
8 want us to make a decision whether this committee 9 wants to -- you know, subject to the imposition of 10 these rules, if you'd want to call it imposition, 11 do we want to scrub through to separate them, as 12 I've indicated, between now and September, or do 13 we just not want to take that task?

14 MR. MCMAINS: We can align with that.
15 I don't know whether this is exactly what you had 16 in mind. But I would certainly move or be in 17 support of a motion of proclamation, or whatever, 18 of this committee, that we are prepared in both 19 subcommittee and full committee forum, to attempt 20 to do something insofar as making some 21 Administrative Rules that, in our judgment, are of 22 some help.

23 I think that the time -- what I would like to 24 do is to move, basically, to make our views known 25 to the Court that we would like an opportunity to

1 review anything that comes out of these hearings
2 with carte blanche to amend them insofar as making 3 them and fashion them to where they really 4 accomplish what we think and what the committee 5 thinks are the problems and the problems that we 6 can realistically address.

7 I'm not trying to supersede the Task Force,
8 and it may not be appropriate. I think, however, 9 that there is input that the lawyers are going to 10 give, and in order for that to be meaningful at 11 the Bar Convention, is at least I'm sure a lot of 12 them are going to the Bar Convention thinking that 13 input is going to be made. But I don't think we 14 should be pretentious enough to try to do anything 15 before then, but that we should after that input 16 is taken, and if there is something that comes out 17 of that in terms of proposed revisions then this 18 committee should be willing to get high behind to 19 do whatever anybody wants to do to try to put 20 something together that works. And I'm perfectly 21 supportive of that. I think everybody's position 22 was that what's recommended we don't think will 23 work.

24 MR. BEARD: I think we should assume 25 that Chief Justice might prevail and start to work

1 on trying to coordinate it and put it over in the 2 rule. I guess everybody that sat on the Task
3 Force has some idea how strong the Chief Justice 4 feels. And I think we ought to be taking that 5 assumption that something is going to come out 6 similar to this and then start to work on it.
7 Because the Chief Justice feels strongly that if 8 something isn't done by the time the legislature 9 meets, then the problem will be taken away from 10 the Force.

11 MR. LOW: I think Justice Wallace was 12 smart in philosophy; he's going to return to the 13 court and, obviously, tell the Court that this 14 committee voted, you know, that we don't like the 15 rules. But then what effect that is going to 16 have, we don't know. So if it has an effect, then 17 it won't be a problem. It appears that it may not 18 have an effect, and I agree with both Pat and 19 Rusty to some extent, I think, that we need to 20 have the Court aware of the fact that we think 21 strongly that some of these rules are not just 22 Administrative Rules; they are Rules of Civil 23 Procedure. And the ones that affect, are they -- 24 ask us to dovetail with the rules, ought to go 25 into the rules. And we should have a subcommittee

1 or somebody prepare to move forward as soon as 2 possible and advise the Chief Justice of that.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any further debate
4 on the question?

5 MR. SPIVEY: Buddy, isn't the problem
6 that any move that we make would, number one, be 7 futile, and number two, wouldn't be material until 8 after we get the inputs from the Bar?

9 I wouldn't have any objection. I think it 10 would be proper to create such a committee, but 11 it's my understanding, not to commence
12 deliberations until after they've heard the input 13 from the general Bar, because we're probably going 14 to get some good suggestions.

15 MR. LOW: I'm not disagreeing with 16 you, but I think we should let the Chief Justice 17 know that we don't like what they're doing, but 18 we're prepared to pick up the task and go forward.

19 Because it would be wrong to just make a separate 20 set of rules and call these Administrative Rules 21 when they're really Rules of Civil Procedure.

22 MR. SPIVEY: I agree with you.

23 MR. LOW: That's all I'm saying.

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let me have a show
25 of hands. How many of the people here are willing

1 to start work right now to separate out what seems 2 to be Civil Procedure from what's Administrative 3 and then to revise that based on what we get at 4 the Bar Convention and thereafter? Are there any 5 people willing to do that? Okay. I'm going to go 6 to work on it because I think it's important, but 7 whether I have help or not is a different story.

8 MR. BRANSON: Luke, let me ask you a 9 question. Having sat through the Task Force and 10 having seen some problems brought to bear, some of 11 which looked more real than others, there might 12 well be several members of this committee who 13 would be interested in working with people like 14 Judge Casseb to look at what areas of the state, 15 such as Harris County, seem to be really having 16 problem with docket control, and attempt to 17 address pockets of problems with recommendations 18 to districts, rather than attempting to revise an 19 entire Rules of Civil Procedure and create new 20 Administrative Rules. Is that something that 21 you're envisioning within your request?

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No.

23 MR. BRANSON: Or are we talking about 24 merely taking Dean Friessen's package and trying 25 to separate it out and use it in terms of Civil

1 Procedure Rules and Administrative Rules. Because 2 I think several of us really were not responsive
3 to Dean Friessen's approach.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm talking about 5 taking the draft that we started with on Thursday,
6 as we marked it up through the day on Thursday, 7 and separating out what we feel is Rules of Civil 8 Procedure from what's really Administrative Rules 9 and trying to integrate the Rules of Civil 10 Procedure that we identify into the present rules, 11 you know, on condition, or whatever, that they 12 come out that way so that we are heard by the 13 Chief Justice, if this is going to happen anyway,
14 if the Court is going to do it anyway, then let's 15 get them in the right place. That's all I'm 16 talking about.

17 MR. BRANSON: Luke, maybe I'm not 18 perceiving what this committee's marching orders 19 are. If you are telling us as Chairman of the 20 committee, that without regard to our input, those 21 rules or some form of those rules are going to be 22 done anyway?

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm not telling you
24 that. I don't know that.

25 MR. BRANSON: Okay. That's one

1 matter. If on the other hand you're saying, are 2 you all willing to sit down and attempt to address
3 the problems that were discussed within the Task
4 Force, then I submit you find a different 5 responsiveness to this committee than someone 6 saying that the Court or the Chief Justice has 7 said these rules are going to pass.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I didn't say that.
9 I am not saying it, and will not say it.

10 MR. BRANSON: Didn't we vote at the 11 meeting the day before yesterday that we would not 12 pass those rules even in the amended form, or they 13 did not pass our scrutiny, and therefore wouldn't 14 it be better for us to, perhaps, look at it, as 15 Broadus suggested, with the input of the Bar at 16 the Bar Convention, some alternative ways of 17 addressing the same problem?

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What I'm troubled by 19 is that these rules come down in a confusing way.
20 And I want to get that addressed by this committee 21 so we can at least, if they do come down, try to 22 prevent that from happening.

23 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Let's try and place
24 this in kind of an overall perspective and think 25 about what our role really is.

1           Now, the Supreme Court could go ahead and 2 promulgate these rules tomorrow if it wanted to,
3 and we all know that. They have asked us for our 4 input. And I think that we would not be 5 performing our responsibility if we didn't give 6 them the benefit of our input.

7           I'm not talking about philosophical input.
8 You've already told me what you think about that.
9 But if they're going to do it, then I think it's 10 certainly to our advantage and our responsibility 11 to prepare these in a way that will implement the 12 philosophy which the Supreme Court might say is 13 going to be utilized in this state.

14           Now, my concern, though, is that if we're 15 going to have this public hearing at the Bar 16 Convention, is it likely that some change in these 17 proposed rules will emanate from that public
18 debate.

19           Now, if it's not likely that they're going to 20 emanate, then I think we might as well go ahead 21 and get to work now. On the other hand, if the 22 purpose of this is to get input and possibly 23 result in some change, then I think it's probably 24 not productive for us to volunteer to get the work 25 until we see what the changes are.

1           And I'd like to know, really, whether or not 2 this public debate is one in which change will be 3 seriously considered or, perhaps, ignored. Now, 4 that to me is a basic question, and I don't have 5 the answer to that.

6           CHAIRMAN SOULES: I don't have any 7 answer but in my view, it's like approaching trial 8 preparation. I really don't know what my 9 adversary is going to do. But when it comes time
10 to pick the jury, I want to be as prepared as I 11 possibly can, because from that day forward I'm on 12 a fast track.

13           And that's all I'm saying is, do we want to 14 address the possibility of a fast track by having 15 our view heard that certain of these rules be in 16 the Rules of Civil Procedure. That view will be 17 heard.

18           PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, some of these 19 rules should be in the Rules of Civil Procedure if 20 we're going to have it.

21           CHAIRMAN SOULES: No question about 22 it.

23           PROFESSOR EDGAR: And I think we're in 24 a better position to recommend to the Court the 25 form in which those rules could take than simply 1 saying, "Okay, Court, we're not going to do that.

2 We're going to leave it up to you to do it good,
3 bad or indifferent." I think we would shirking 4 our duty if we did that.

5 MR. BEARD: In that public debate, why
6 should we not express an opinion from this 7 committee that certain parts of 3, 4 and 5, a 8 great deal of it belongs over in the Rules of 9 Civil Procedure as part of that public debate?

10 PROFESSOR EDGAR: That's just a
11 housekeeping chore; if it belongs in the rules, it 12 belongs in the rules. I don't really know if that 13 makes any difference in the public debate.

14 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I think what 15 you're suggesting is, that I feel -- the only 16 thing that concerns me is that Dean Friessen did 17 -- they had the concept of all of the 18 "Administrative Rules" in one package so that 19 everybody can absorb them at the same time. And I 20 wonder if somebody might think that we're being 21 even more critical by suggesting that we pull out 22 or recommend a pull-out of those portions of the 23 rules that we think ought to go in the Rules of 24 Civil Procedure.

25 I would be inclined, through Justice Wallace,

1 to ask Chief Justice Hill if he wants us to do
2 that, and if we do, to have a subcommittee and a 3 place to do it.

4 I think that in the June hearing, we're going 5 to hear a lot of just "I-don't-like-this" type of 6 thing. And, you know, it's going to cause
7 sensitivity again, but I think that if the Court
8 and Judge Hill wants us to do that, we ought to be 9 ready to do it.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The organizational 11 problems can be handled. They can be published in 12 the Bar Journal, as here the new Administrative 13 Rules and here are the consequential changes to 14 the Rules of Civil Procedure, and they can be all 15 in one place, and they can be published in 16 pamphlets all together.

17 The organization of getting them all before 18 the public or the Bar in a single series can be 19 handled. But whether three or four years from now 20 lawyers looking in the Rules of Civil Procedure 21 feel like they found the answers, not knowing that 22 they ought to also be looking some place else, I 23 don't know, and that's my concern.

24 MR. BRANSON: Would it be possible,
25 Luke, since the committee did vote overwhelmingly

1 to object the proposals even after our amendments
2 to get a charge from the Court, at this point, as 3 to whether they would prefer us to go back and 4 work on that set of rules, redrafting the entire 5 method of law practice in this state, or whether 6 they would like to take a different approach and 7 look at the individual problems of some of the 8 court dockets in the state on an individual basis, 9 as opposed to an overall system form?

10 And you're really dealing now, I think, with 11 philosophical approaches to the problem. You can 12 either throw the wash out and hope you don't throw 13 the baby with it, or you can go back and attempt 14 to spot clean the problem.

15 And having witnessed the Task Force, I left 16 with an impression that a spot cleaning would be a 17 much more logical and efficient approach to the 18 problems than an overall system form.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I think, you
20 know, we can ask for that explanation and ask that 21 it be a part of the agenda at the Bar Convention
22 where the Chief Justice addresses the entire Bar 23 Association and ask that he speak to that issue 24 and have it available for debate.

25 MR. BRANSON: Without regard to the

1 Chief's position, could we get a feel from the 2 Court whether the Court would like an overall 3 attempted change from this committee or whether 4 they'd like to look at the individual problem?

5 In the end, it's going to end up in the 6 Court's lap, and that's a decision they're going 7 to have to make. It would sure assist this 8 committee in our work if we then join in.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I'll ask 10 Justice Wallace to forward your inquiry then to 11 the Court and get us a response, if the Court 12 would like to respond, to the questions you've 13 just asked.

14 MR. BECK: Luke, I was not here
15 Thursday, but by the tenor of the comments, I 16 detect that there's not a lot of enthusiasm of 17 doing what you want to do, basically, for two 18 reasons. One, there seems to be some sentiment 19 that by doing that, we're somehow acquiescing in 20 those rules when, philosophically, this committee
21 seems to be opposed to it.

22 The second objection seems to be logistical,
23 and that is, why begin work on something that may 24 be radically changed at the State Bar Convention?
25 I guess my response to all that is that I think we

1 may be able to resolve all those problems.

2 One, if you want to appoint a group to do
3 this, why not have them begin work after the State
4 Bar Convention so that they've got something 5 tangible to work with? And with respect to any 6 suggestions that this committee makes, we can 7 still in the recommendation make very clear that 8 this is in nowise to be construed as acquiescence
9 in the concept which this committee opposes.

10 And that way, I think we solve our 11 responsibility to the Court of advising them with 12 respect to the Rules of Civil Procedure, but at 13 the same time go on record as being 14 philosophically opposed to what Dean Friessen 15 recommended.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I think that's a
17 very good approach.

18 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): I
19 wholeheartedly agree with what David just said.
20 And I was here during the whole, but I did not 21 vote, and I think Broadus did not either and maybe 22 Mr. Nix didn't.

23 But I will go ahead and go on record as 24 joining that vote on the majority side being 25 opposed to the Administrative Rules presented to

1 us even as amended and cleaned up. And I think 2 that's necessary because Judge Wallace is supposed
3 to be reporting back and I join that viewpoint.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm sure that our 5 Thursday action is going to be reported back. Let 6 me try to straighten this and one single thing up 7 with David Beck.

8 The track that I have been given to 9 understand by Chief Justice Hill -- and I don't 10 know what form these rules are going to take or 11 whether they will pass -- but it is that soon 12 after the Bar Convention input is received by the 13 Court, the Court intends to address these rules
14 and perhaps promulgate them.

15 Our input is today, or was Thursday. And the 16 Bar Convention input is coming then and then the 17 Court plans to go to work on these rules. So this 18 gets right to your point of scheduling, David.
19 I'm not sure that we will have a redrafted work 20 product to look at after the Bar Convention and 21 before it becomes more finalized. So it's only a 22 matter of time.

23 MR. BECK: Luke, what you could do is 24 you can put your committee in place today. They 25 don't need to begin work until after the State Bar

1 Convention. And depending upon what happens at 2 the State Bar Convention and what the Supreme 3 Court wants us to do, you may need to call a 4 special meeting.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We won't have a work
6 product that comes out of the Bar Convention.
7 There will be a lot of hearings.

8 MR. BECK: I understand.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But we won't have a 10 different work product to work with. If we 11 haven't worked in the interim, we may never have a 12 work product that inputs into the final rules.

13 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Then my question is,
14 if you're saying that a different work product 15 will not emindate from this hearing then why have 16 the hearing? I mean, the purpose of the hearing 17 must be to the possibility --

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It's a question of 19 whether or not there will be an interim work 20 product before the final work product comes down.
21 That's the point I'm making. After the Bar
22 Convention, there may not be an interim work 23 product between that convention and the action of 24 the Supreme Court. The next action may be -- 25 Judge Wallace, did you have a comment to make?

1 JUSTICE WALLACE: It seemed like what 2 I have told the Task Force everytime we met, and 3 what I said here Thursday, it seems to be falling 4 on deaf ears. And that is that what I report to 5 the Supreme Court is what I honestly feel to be 6 the feelings of the practicing Bench and Bar.

7 Now, the State Bar Board of Directors
8 recommended -- so I got a call from Ed Koltis 9 (phonetic) yesterday, that not only we have these 10 public hearings at Houston, but you have some of 11 them around the state. And I wanted to get 12 you-all's input because you-all do pretty well
13 represent the state geographically. And I'm sure 14 you've heard comments on this project from your 15 people.

16 Would the Court be better informed if we had 17 some of these public hearings around the state as 18 opposed to that one in Houston?

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: How many feel the 20 Court would be better informed and should conduct 21 hearings around the state on this? That's 22 unanimous. How many opposed to that? That's 23 unanimous.

24 JUSTICE WALLACE: And another thing:
25 Now, the Chief Justice and myself are probably the

1 only members of the court who have given a whole 2 lot of attention to this so far. Everybody, as 3 you know, over there has administrative duties.
4 This happened to be mine, the whole rule gamut.
5 And everybody else has their own job, and they've 6 got more to do than they got time to do, and they 7 haven't focused in on this as yet.

8 I know the one that has campaigned for office 9 has heard a lot about it. And I assure you that 10 they are -- if you-all could set through one 11 Tuesday over there when we're discussing opinions, 12 you'd know that there are nine strong independent 13 voices over there and it takes 5 to pass
14 anything.

15 And I don't see any indication that these 16 Administrative Rules are going to be different 17 than anything else. You know how the Chief 18 Justice feels. And he's the Chief over there.
19 And the Chief usually carries more weight than any 20 of us. But you still come down and it's going to 21 take five votes out of that nine to pass
22 anything.

23 And my concern is to find out what the 24 practicing Bench and Bar of the state feels about 25 these, and to transmit all that information

1 possibly, including a complete transcript of 2 what's gone on here these three days and what's 3 gone on in Houston in any other hearing we've had 4 have, and make sure every member of the court has 5 that information, and it is discussed before we 6 vote. Now, that's my viewpoint of that, and 7 you-all make your decision from that.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We've heard that 9 clearly now from you, Your Honor, and through the 10 days, that not only gives us a lot of comfort to 11 know that that will be the case. Any other 12 comment on that?

13 MR. MORRIS: I have one. I think what 14 I didn't say very well earlier, and that prompted 15 me to be able to say it a little better, is that 16 if they're having trouble with Administrative 17 Rules that are really going to affect a major 18 change in the way law is practiced in Texas and 19 can't get it done through the right hand, that is, 20 the Administrative Rules change then I don't, at 21 this stage, want to be a party of effectuating 22 change through the Rules of Civil Procedure, that 23 really are, in effect, making the major change
24 that the Task Force was set out to do.

25 And the reason I wanted to wait and hold off

1 until after all of the hearings before we do
2 anything is for my fear that if we get off into a 3 Rules of Civil Procedure change, we've really 4 circumvented the process that was set up by the 5 legislature, and that was, it called for a Task
6 Force by the Chief Justice.

7 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, I want to pick 8 up what David said earlier. If the Court, after 9 the hearing at the Bar Convention, wants a 10 subcommittee of this committee to examine those 11 rules to see which ones, if any, might be more 12 appropriately placed in the Rules of Civil 13 Procedure, then I would be happy to serve on such 14 a committee. But I would kind of like some 15 expression from the Court that that's what they 16 want us to do, and that it be done after we have 17 the public hearings.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right. Should 19 we go on record as seeking leave from the Court to 20 give us the opportunity to look at any proposed or 21 tentatively adopted rules for that purpose?

22 MR. LOW: Having made a motion, I
23 second it.

24 MR. BRANSON: I'm not sure I
25 understand Hadley's motion.

1 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, I just said
2 I'd be willing to serve on such a committee. I 3 really didn't make an motion.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I think the 5 difference between what Hadley is saying and what 6 I'm saying is that Hadley has indicated that we 7 would want to hear from the Court that they want 8 the work done.

9 My approach is, do we want to tell the Court
10 that we would like to have an opportunity to do 11 the work if these rules are going to pass to try 12 to clean them up?

13 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): You're 14 saying that although we're very opposed to it, if 15 we're going to have to have it anyway, let us get 16 in a workable form?

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's right.
18 That's exactly; that's well put. Is that a
19 motion?

20 MR. BRANSON: My only question is I
21 don't perceive from what Judge Wallace said that, 22 number one, we're going to have to have them
23 anyway. And number two that at this point, it 24 does us much good to go on record requesting that 25 opportunity until after the Bar has had an

1 opportunity, either at the public hearings
2 throughout the state or at the Bar Convention, to 3 address it. Because I don't know the experience 4 of the other members of this committee, but any 5 time practicing members of the Bar or Bench have 6 surreptitiously found out I was on this committee
7 or on the Task Force, they have come near lynching 8 me with regard to my involvement in the 9 recommendations of Dean Friessen.

10 And so I perceive the vast majority of the 11 Bar, based on their response to me, is going to be 12 more inclined to want to put these in the garbage
13 can than in the Rules of Civil Procedure.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, I guess we've 15 asked this enough. I don't know whether we're 16 going to get any consensus, but I want to hear 17 Broadus because his hand is up.

18 MR. SPIVEY: I rise the point of 19 order, Luke, and I want you to hear what I'm 20 saying because this is addressed to you in the 21 most respectful manner. I thought I heard you say 22 that regardless of our unanimous vote a while ago, 23 to wait until after the Bar input, that you were 24 going to go ahead and work on it anyhow.

25 And I think you shouldn't do that, in all

1 candor. Because you're the Chairman of this 2 committee, and I don't think you ought to take 3 action contrary to this committee's desire.

4 I want to stress that I haven't perceived 5 from the other advocates' pleadings here that they 6 are against change. I simply heard them say that 7 they are strongly against what has been proposed 8 now. But we've invested a lot of our time, a lot 9 of our effort in something that we'd all like to 10 see something come out of. And I think we ought 11 to turn this to a constructive approach, and that 12 will be, if we listen to the lawyer. And there's 13 another aspect I've got to address; let me finish
14 up. Listen to the lawyer at the Bar Convention.
15 I think that's an absolute prerequisite to getting 16 anything done constructively.

17 Secondly, it must be stated that the 18 objection is not just coming from practicing 19 lawyers. I practice in as many courts in this 20 state as any lawyer I know of. I have heard 21 almost unanimously from the trial judges dissent 22 against what's coming out of the Administrative 23 Rules.

24 I think we should listen to these objections 25 and rather than just saying, "Well, it's no good;

1 let's just abandon it," simply take that as a 2 constructive suggestion and go back and maybe take 3 the approach that Branson was suggesting, and that 4 is, address the specific problems.

5 Just because the problem is hard, it doesn't 6 mean that we're going to get frustrated and throw
7 up our hands. But I think the Chief Justice needs 8 input from us that he can effectively carry 9 through, because nobody has heard more than Chief 10 Justice Hill. If he makes an effort that falls 11 completely flat on his face, it's not just an 12 embarrassment, you know; it's a mandate.

13 And I think if we don't get that input from 14 the Bar at the Bar Convention, and listen to it, 15 and poll the judge, the judges that have the 16 problems, that experience problems, then we've 17 simply built a beautiful doll that maybe pleases 18 us or the Chief Justice, but neither the 19 practicing Bar nor the judges, and it won't pass.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Anyone else? Okay.
21 Judge Thomas, you've got a report to make on these 22 earlier rules and the Rules of Civil Procedure.

23 JUDGE THOMAS: There are a couple of 24 things, Luke.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Maybe you can direct

1 us to the pages. I'm not sure that I've got them
2 turned to the right page.

3 JUDGE THOMAS: Sure. We need to move
4 up to the ones that I think that I would like to 5 get a consensus of opinion from the committee.
6 And that really starts at Page 86 of Rule 8 where 7 we start talking about attorneys in charge. And 8 Pat Beard brought up yesterday morning the problem
9 of exactly what constitutes the attorney. Is it 10 the individual or is it the law firm?

11 And what I'm asking for is a consensus from 12 the group, recognizing I have a feeling I know
13 what everyone is going to say. Is it the law firm 14 or is it the attorney signing the pleadings? And 15 we need to resolve that before we can get into the 16 other issues of notice, where does notice go and 17 so forth, being the background behind the proposed 18 rules changes in Rule 8, 10, and so forth.

19 Right now we have a Rule 8 and we have a Rule 20 10. Rule 8, as presently written, is "leading 21 counsel" is defined. Rule 10, "attorney of 22 record" is defined. Rule 8, you will find on Page 23 86 some changes -- proposed changes on 86 in your 24 book as well as Page 104. Rule 10 proposed 25 changes you will find on Page 90 and Page 105 in

1 the book.

2 Obviously, all of this comes about as a
3 result of some confusion and some concern about 4 where notices are sent, which attorneys get 5 noticed, which ones get to play ball, and, of 6 course, the problem that Pat brought up yesterday, 7 and that is, if you're in trial some place else,
8 can they just call and say, "Well, it's your law 9 firm that was hired; somebody get your buns down 10 here and go to court"?

11 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I'd like a rule
12 that says they can't do that. But I don't know 13 how in the world -- you know, in the federal 14 courts and even in our state district courts, we 15 are required to file a certificate as to the 16 attorney responsible for that case. And this 17 appears to really conform that local rule. I 18 think it's a good rule, the one that is proposed 19 on Page 86.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We had a letter from 21 Reese Harrison citing the Scopeland Enterprises
22 vs. Tindall (phonetic), January of 1985 case, 23 where the -- and then also stating one of his 24 personal experiences where the Court said, "Well, 25 if the law firm is on the pleading, somebody else

1 from the law firm can come try the case."

2 MR. BRANSON: How do you address the 3 problem, though, of one or two lawyers with an 4 active trial practice, perhaps, letting their 5 bulldog mouth overload their pekingese ass and 6 taking on a bunch more lawsuits than they ever get 7 tried, and always presenting that they're in trial
8 some place else when depositions need to be taken, 9 when trials need to occur? And from the 10 practicing lawyer's standpoint with the larger 11 firms, that's not an infrequent occurrence.

12 And the truth of the matter is, in the vast 13 majority of those cases, the lawyer who is "lead 14 counsel" really doesn't touch the file. The 15 associates and junior partners work the file up 16 and do 98 percent of the work.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That may be part of 18 the frustration where these judges were coming 19 from in these particular cases, Frank.

20 MR. LOW: That is a problem, and I see 21 it a little different on procedure. But I know, 22 like in my firm, I'm the only person that handles 23 claims cases, and if they ask my partner and if 24 I'm in trial, they say "He's got to try it." I 25 just have to increase my malpractice insurance.

1 But I put my number on there when I sign it.

2 General Motors for a good while, until they 3 got smarter, wouldn't let anybody in the firm but 4 me try their cases, and it was presenting a real 5 problem. So, I think where you have a genuine 6 situation the courts and the lawyers just have to 7 deal with, where you've got a situation if the 8 Court finds it's being evasive to keep from going 9 to trial, that's something else, and the 10 individual courts have to deal with that.

11 But I think it would be wrong to say that a 12 particular client should not have the lawyer of 13 his preference because that's who he's hired. And 14 I think if the lawyer signs the pleadings and he 15 puts his State Bar card on there that that's truly 16 his case. Now, if they're Mickey Mousing around 17 with it, well, that's something else.

18 JUDGE THOMAS: Well, I think the 19 letter, Luke, that you refer to on Page 111, 112 20 and 113 in the book also points out an additional 21 problem, and that is, if you're going to consider 22 that it is "the law firm," quite often the notices
23 go to the law firm and you never see it.

24 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): It takes three 25 days to get it to the right lawyer, the 1 memorandum.

2 JUDGE THOMAS: A three-day notice
3 motion has been sitting some place for four days.
4 So that's why I say that I think the issue of 5 definition of the attorney needs to be addressed 6 before we can really address the issues of where 7 the notices go.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: David, maybe you
9 could help us on this. I know some of the, of 10 course, big clients hire a law firm. Maybe they 11 hire Fulbright; they don't hire some individual in 12 Fulbright. And then whatever XYZ law firm, they 13 sign the pleading, XYZ law firm by one of the 14 lawyers. At that juncture the law firm has become 15 counsel of record, I guess, because that's the way 16 they signed it.

17 MR. BECK: That's not the way our 18 clerks treat it over there at the courthouse.
19 They look to the person who has signed the 20 pleading, and they list that person as the 21 attorney that they send all their notices to. So 22 it doesn't matter whether it's Fulbright and 23 Jaworski by, or I sign my name, attorney in 24 charge; as long as I sign that pleading, I get all 25 the notices.

1 MR. BEARD: Well, I hire a lot of 2 defense counsel for clients and I try to hire a
3 specific lawyer because I don't find a uniform --

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, those are two 5 different approaches in the way the pleadings are 6 signed and that's what I'm really trying to get 7 at. We can sign them individually. Our practice
8 is that the lawyer that's going to handle a case
9 or be responsible to see that it proceeds, signs 10 it and we put "of counsel" and the name of the 11 firm. But that's only there of counsel; it's not 12 of record on the signature line. But perhaps 13 General Motors doesn't want to hire an individual 14 lawyer in Fulbright; they want to hire Fulbright 15 itself. I'm just trying to get into how that 16 works.

17 MR. BECK: There are couple of 18 different problems, and I think the judge is 19 right. You start first with who is the attorney.
20 And the federal courts have long had a rule where 21 you had to designate the attorney in charge, and 22 that's never really caused us any problem at all.

23 You then get to the next step which is, what 24 happens when one attorney is always tied up in a 25 matter and you can't somehow get your case moving?

1 That's a separate problem. I know in Harris
2 County, as Judge Tunks knows, the way we help with 3 that is we passed a local rule which said that if 4 a lawyer is trying to get a case to trial and the 5 opposing counsel is unavailable because he is in 6 trial, you can use that excuse two times, and if 7 it comes up a third time, then the court can 8 require anybody in that law firm to try the 9 lawsuit. And as far as I know, it works fairly 10 well, doesn't it, Judge?

11 JUDGE TUNKS: Well, it has, except it
12 makes a lot of lawyers mad.

13 JUDGE THOMAS: I know one of the 14 problems, for instance, in family courts where you 15 have a series of hearings. Take the situation
16 where Harry Tindall in Houston has taken on a 17 Dallas case and hires local counsel. It is not at 18 all -- and I don't mean to indicate that Harry or 19 Fuller or any of these have played this game.

20 If you're trying to get it set for trial, 21 they don't yell and scream, "Harry Tindall is the 22 lawyer." And yet, when they are seeking relief, 23 Kuhns or Fuller or somebody from that firm can 24 come down on the motions for contempt. And I 25 think this is the frustration and the room for

1 abuse that we have to recognize goes on. Who is 2 seeking the relief?

3 MR. BECK: Can't that be handled on a
4 case-by-case basis, Judge?

5 JUDGE THOMAS: Sure.

6 MR. BECK: The judge in that case
7 saying, "Well, wait a minute, Mr. Kuhns was over 8 here two weeks ago, so he can come over here next 9 week."

10 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): You know, we've 11 got a problem that I don't think we're facing.
12 We're looking at it from a procedural or 13 administration standpoint. We have to look at it, 14 as I find, more particularly on the plaintiff's, 15 but I certainly yield to it frequently. And that 16 is, you've got to look at it from a client's 17 standpoint. The client does, particularly, in a 18 case where they have retained a lawyer to file a 19 lawsuit. They have selected an attorney.

20 And I seem to be getting more and more legal 21 malpractice cases as each year goes on. And that, 22 to me, is a thread that's running through the sum
23 of them. And that is, I hired John Jones and I
24 show up at the courthouse and Tim Smith is there
25 to try the lawsuit. In particular, when you lose

1 it, you've got an additional problem.

2 The Houston rule may make some lawyers mad, 3 but at least it gives you a hedge of some time to 4 rearrange to where, when you have a particular 5 problem, that lawyer can arrange to handle that 6 particular client. I favor the approach like Rule 7 86 where a lawyer is designated to be responsible.

8
9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: This new Rule 8, of 10 course, as proposed does that, and also identifies 11 where pleadings and service is to be made. I 12 think that's probably what the old rule 8 was 13 intended to do. But it's not written in modern 14 language, if you want to put it that way, and it
15 doesn't really say what its intent was, and I 16 think, perhaps, the new Rule 8 as proposed does.

17 And new Rule 8 doesn't omit anything that the 18 old Rule 8 has. Everything that's in the old Rule 19 8 is restated, perhaps, in clearer language. Plus 20 the inference that the lead counsel is supposed to 21 be served and so forth is expressly stated in the 22 new Rule 8, although we changed "leading counsel" 23 to "attorney in charge," which is a more commonly 24 heard term. Is there any opposition to that?

25 JUSTICE WALLACE: I'd like to make a

1 suggestion on that. And the problem is, who's 2 going to be the attorney in charge if they don't 3 designate anybody? And just stating the rule, if 4 an attorney in charge is not designated, the 5 individual signing the original pleading of a 6 party shall be the attorney in charge.

7 So that's for the benefit of that great 8 majority of the Bar out there who is not going to 9 read these rules in the next three or four years 10 until they get caught on something like this.

11 And so there's no question in anybody's mind 12 that the first person that signed the pleading for 13 that are party is going to be the attorney in 14 charge until it's changed, and the rule tells you 15 how you can change it.

16 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): You put that 17 after the first sentence, Judge?

18 JUSTICE WALLACE: Yes. After the 19 first paragraph, there in Rule 8 as it's now 20 written.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: On page 86. That's 22 a good suggestion. "If the attorney in charge is 23 not designated the attorney" --

24 JUSTICE WALLACE: -- "signing the 25 original pleading of a party shall be the

1 'attorney in charge.'

2 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Don't you think 3 it ought to go after the first sentence before the 4 word "thereafter"?

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yes, that's where.

6 JUSTICE WALLACE: Yes.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. With that 8 change, how many favor this proposal on page 86 of 9 our material.

10 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Luke, just 11 an observation before we vote on it.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Sure.

13 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): In the 14 realities as you come to court, and I've heard 15 this hundreds of times in courts that have fast 16 moving dockets where the judges push very hard,
17 the defense counsel says, "You know, I'm sorry, 18 I'm in trial somewhere else." And the judge says, 19 "You've got other competent lawyers in your firm," 20 you know, "get one of them down here" and you hash 21 it around.

22 I read the proposed Rule 8 change on Page 86
23 as giving the trial judge the authority because it 24 says "shall attend." I'm talking about the last 25 sentence of the first paragraph that the lead

1 lawyer in charge shall attend. And then you have 2 to read that to say, "or shall send a fully 3 authorized" --

4 And to me I'm reading that to say the trial 5 judge now has the authority to make a change of 6 counsel regardless of what the client wants,
7 whether it's an insurance company or a plaintiff's 8 lawyer. I mean, that's how I'm reading that 9 rule. And I think we need to know that that's 10 what's happening.

11 MR. BRANSON: Maybe a point of inquiry
12 might be in order. How do you perceive this rule 13 changes the existing law or the existing rules?

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, what it does 15 is it makes it clear that service is to go to the 16 attorney in charge. And the present Rule 8 17 doesn't say that, and there is a problem in that 18 if XYZ law firm signs a pleading by Luke Soules, 19 then the pleadings are sent to the law firm.
20 There's a contention that that service is 21 completed, even though it's not directed to my 22 attention.

23 And that's a problem that's been raised by 24 the lawyers who have written in to us. All 25 communications from the court or the counsel with

1 respect to the suit will be sent to the attorney
2 in charge. It says that. It's not elsewhere
3 stated.

4 MR. BRANSON: And that is the only
5 change you perceive, and that is, that all 6 correspondence would be addressed to what we've 7 historically called "lead counsel."

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, that and the 9 point that Sam Sparks has just identified, where 10 it says that, "the attorney in charge shall attend 11 or shall send a fully authorized representative to 12 all hearings, conferences, and the trial."

13 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Isn't that the 14 rule now? I mean, if you're hired, you either be 15 there or send somebody that can act?

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The rule doesn't say
17 that, but I certainly feel that -- well, I don't 18 know about the "fully authorized." The 19 authorization may not be full. It may be the 20 authorization only to a continuance not to proceed 21 with trial and you can move for a continuance.
22 But if the judge doesn't grant it, then you are to 23 announce "not ready." "Fully authorized" may be a 24 departure.

25 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Well, it

1 says "trial" in this one.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, you still need 3 to send a representative if the judge has 4 overruled your motion for continuance, you just 5 can't fail to show up.

6 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Luke, the 7 reality of life is, basically, in a plaintiff's 8 practice, which I do. You know, I'm going to see 9 a client once. He's heard, tries his case; he 10 goes on.

11 The insurance lawyer on the other side, 12 whether he's with Hardy Gramley (phonetic) or 13 Fulbright & Jaworski or anybody else, wants to 14 maintain his relationship with Aetna or Hartford, 15 or Travelers or whoever he's doing. And if the 16 judge just says "You're not trying this case. You 17 will appoint somebody else, and I don't care if 18 you're in trial somewhere else," I think the fear 19 by the defense lawyers is they lose their client 20 because that is a repetitive client that goes on 21 down through time.

22 And it gets down to a basic question of, does 23 a client have a right to select his own lawyer or 24 shall he be forced to accept anybody within that 25 firm? And I don't care; I don't think it affects

1 my practice. But I think it's something that Sam
2 Sparks from El Paso, David Beck, they should be 3 thinking about that. Because I read this rule as 4 it says "shall attend hearings, conferences and 5 trial."

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, if we took out
7 the words "fully authorized," it really doesn't 8 change what the practice is, does it? On the 9 other hand, "fully authorized" may be construed to 10 mean that you've got to send somebody fully 11 authorized to proceed the trial.

12 I'm trying to hear a consensus, and I think I 13 hear that that's not what this committee wants, to 14 force a lawyer to send somebody fully authorized 15 to proceed the trial. But you've got to send a 16 representative anyway because at least you got to 17 have somebody there --

18 MR. BRANSON: Whether you're in a big 19 law firm or a small law firm, once you get more 20 than one lawyer in the firm you're going to have 21 some crossover on people that are working on 22 files, and particularly, once you get associates 23 in a firm with partners. And it's going to affect 24 everybody, whether you've got three associates or 25 300, I think.

1 MR. LOW: I was just going to say that 2 I don't know that the last -- it's automatic if 3 you just put a period after "such party appearing 4 and shall attend and send." Well, you're 5 obligated to attend and send, and it doesn't 6 mislead and say, "Well you've got to have a 7 representative."

8 I mean, you know, everybody knows if the 9 judge says you've got to do something, you've got 10 to do it, and you make a bill. We tell first the 11 attorney in charge who he is, but we don't give 12 him his charge, "shall attend" and "representative 13 conference," and everything. If you just stopped 14 and left that out, where would we be? And he's 15 responsible and then the professional's
16 responsibility follows thereafter. And the law
17 takes it's course, but we don't purport the court 18 to be putting the law in the rules.

19 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I second that 20 thought. I often wondered what "fully authorized" 21 is. You know, in the federal courts you are fully 22 authorized to dispose of the case. I never have 23 been fully authorized to dispose of a case, as far 24 as I know.

25 MR. BEARD: But I can tell you that

1 local counsel is getting to be a dangerous
2 animal. Because local counsel hasn't been doing
3 anything but, you know, the names on the pleadings
4 and then all of a sudden you say "go to trial;"
5 he's in trouble. And often, it worried me 6 sometimes that local counsel has about the 7 competence of lead counsel.

8 Anything that you can just say, "go to trial" 9 and local counsel goes to trial, he's not ready to 10 go to trial. He's over there telling him about a 11 jury or something.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Especially when 13 you've been employed to just local counsel and to 14 keep your fees down.

15 MR. BEARD: That's right.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And then you're in 17 trial. Well, the suggestion is then, that we 18 delete the language in the first paragraph of the 19 proposal that follows citations 21-B.

20 JUSTICE WALLACE: Are you running into 21 a problem if you delete that and say that the 22 attorney in charge is going to be responsible?
23 Are you going to run into a problem where, when 24 someone else goes over there, they can argue,
25 "Well, he didn't have authority because the rule

1 says the attorney in charge is in charge of this 2 case, shall be responsible?" And I'm asking; I'm 3 not saying you would. Will that create a
4 problem?

5 Well, the case we wrote on here not too long
6 ago out of San Angelo -- no, Odessa, I guess it
7 was. Some lawyer out of Dallas used an Odessa law
8 firm's letterhead and sent a pleading over. Well, 9 the clerk picked up the letterhead and showed the 10 Odessa lawyer -- sent notice to the Odessa lawyer
11 a dismissal, and the Odessa lawyer didn't know 12 anything about it and thought it must have been 13 sent to the wrong lawyer and threw it in the 14 wastebasket and the lawyer in Dallas was in bad 15 trouble.

16 Of course, the designation of attorney in 17 charge would have cleared that one up. But that's 18 the type of situation lawyers get into. And 19 they're going to look every way they can to get 20 out of it. And I know I would if I were in their 21 position. So, are you leaving an opening here for 22 the lawyer to come in and say, "I'm the attorney 23 in charge and, therefore, this guy came over and 24 agreed to so and so. The rules say I'm the one in 25 charge so therefore, it's not binding on him."

1 MR. BRANSON: Therefore, you could use
2 associates to work on any trial.

3 MR. LOW: But Judge, you've got to 4 delegate responsibility.

5 JUSTICE WALLACE: I realize that.

6 MR. LOW: And so, we all delegate it.
7 And this says "he shall be responsible." It 8 doesn't say that he can't delegate some 9 responsibility, but it doesn't require him,
10 personally, to send a representative. The law 11 requires that. He's responsible to see that his 12 name -- if the rules say that notice goes to the 13 person who was first on the pleadings; he's 14 responsible to see that that's the one.

15 And so his responsibility extends fully, but 16 it doesn't require him to send -- like in Frank's 17 case, if he's got a clerk getting a case ready, 18 that he doesn't have to go and try it if Frank is 19 in trial, or this rule doesn't require it.

20 MR. BRANSON: Wouldn't we accomplish
21 the same thing, Luke, if we just added the last 22 sentence to the currently existing Rule 8, and 23 that is, "All communications from the court or 24 other counsel with respect to a suit shall be sent 25 to the lead counsel"?

1 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): I don't see
2 how, because how do you determine who the attorney 3 first employed is? Rule 8 doesn't make any 4 sense. I mean, there's no way for anybody except 5 the client and the attorney, I guess, if you can 6 assume that he was first employed or second 7 employed.

8 MR. BRANSON: But the courts have been 9 grappling with that all along, and when a problem 10 came up, what they've been doing is just saying,
11 "You're going to have to appoint a lead counsel," 12 and you've seen it.

13 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Sure, and 14 that's what Rule 8 does.

15 MR. BRANSON: But they don't make you
16 appoint a lead counsel until they get into a
17 problem.

18 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Well, we have 19 designated lead counsel over both state and 20 federal courts. We've always been in, Frank. We 21 don't have that problem.

22 MR. BRANSON: I don't think I've ever
23 had -- maybe half-dozen times, somebody asked me 24 to designate. And that's usually when you get 25 into an argument over who's going to do

1 something. Usually when two of you want to 2 cross-examine the same witness is generally when 3 it becomes a problem.

4 JUSTICE WALLACE: One problem this 5 would continue to address, too, is on the clerk's 6 office. Who do you send notice to, what 7 attorneys? You've got half a dozen different 8 names appearing throughout the file. How do they 9 determine which one they should notify?

10 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): In light of 11 that recent case, it sure would be helpful if they 12 notified the right one.

13 MR. BRANSON: But how do they handle
14 the question you raised, Judge, and that is, lead 15 counsel or counsel in charge has been designated 16 as Jim Williams, and an associate in Jim Williams' 17 law firm enters into an agreement with another 18 party?

19 JUSTICE WALLACE: I think this last 20 sentence, Frank, says, in effect, that if the 21 attorney in charge sends another lawyer over 22 there, he's responsible for whatever that lawyer 23 agrees to.

24 MR. BRANSON: The way it's written 25 currently.

1 JUSTICE WALLACE: No, the suggested
2 change on Page 86.

3 MR. LOW: If you had a rule that just 4 said that any pleading filed -- we now have to put 5 our state bar in numbers. Somebody has to put by 6 his name, "attorney in charge." If you had that, 7 you wouldn't even question who the attorney in 8 charge is. No matter how many names are on there, 9 if you had one of them, you know, designated when 10 he filed the pleading as "attorney in charge", 11 then you wouldn't have any questions.

12 PROFESSOR EDGAR: But then, Buddy, the 13 clerk is going to have to look through and find 14 out which pleading has that designation on it.

15 MR. LOW: I know. But apparently,
16 when they file, Hadley, they put it on the docket.
17 That's where they pick it up. They don't go to 18 the pleadings. And on the docket, it would be 19 very easy to put an asterisk by that. It wouldn't 20 be much trouble. The docket sheet is where they 21 pick up who to mail to.

22 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): This rule would 23 really help them because in El Paso State Court, 24 they put the first name of our firm on the 25 docket. And it turns out that's all right in our 1 case because the first name of our firm is head of 2 the trial lawyers. But had it been a business 3 lawyer, it would have been bad.

4 I move for the adoption of proposed Rule 8
5 cutting off after the word "suit" and 6 eliminating --

7 MR. BRANSON: Or how about the 8 "parties"?

9 JUDGE THOMAS: "As to such party."

10 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Yes. And 11 eliminating the phrase "and shall attend or send a 12 fully authorized representative to all hearings, 13 conferences and trials."

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Now, is that going
15 to get an automatic continuance when the attorney 16 in charge can't show up? They just come over and 17 say, "He's in charge."

18 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): It's going 19 to be just like the law is now.

20 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I can't believe 21 in that. I want to practice in the court that 22 says that.

23 MR. BRANSON: But isn't that exactly
24 what the part we're cutting out is designed to do?
25 And that is, keep the attorney in charge from

1 being able to say it's an automatic continuance.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's what it's 3 for.

4 MR. BRANSON: The part that we're 5 cutting out gives someone a vehicle to make that 6 argument. And if you leave it in, it's not 7 there.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's right. In 9 other words, there's two alternatives, leave it in 10 and drop out the "fully authorized," because 11 that's probably beyond what any motion hearing
12 would require, or to put a period after "party" 13 and delete it all, or leave it in except for the 14 words "fully authorized."

15 MR. BECK: The trouble with the 16 language is that if you included your opposition 17 to actually use that to try to force the 18 representative to be sent over, you know, that 19 ought not to be the way it works.

20 I mean, the attorney who is handling the case
21 ought to try it. If there's an abusive situation, 22 then I think the trial judge can handle that and 23 require the representative to be there. But you 24 don't want somebody to be able, when you're in 25 trial, to say, "Well now, fine. But this rule

1 says that if Luke is unavailable, by God, I can 2 require somebody in his firm to come over." And 3 that ought not to be the rule.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's the issue
5 exactly, and that's what we're going to vote on.
6 And we've hashed it, I think. Sam, do you have 7 anything else on that point?

8 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): For example,
9 we've got one of our district courts that has all 10 motions for continuance Friday morning, a week 11 before the Monday selection of the jury. And if 12 the lawyer wants to argue a motion for 13 continuance, right now I don't have to go. I can 14 find out at 9 o'clock whether the motion was 15 granted or not. This would require me to send 16 somebody over there. Whereas my practice right 17 now is not to go at all.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

19 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): And I'm for 20 deletion.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. The motion is 22 that -- before we do that, though, what Buddy was 23 talking about there, just doing it in the 24 pleadings is -- I have a concern. This says "each 25 party shall." Can we just say, "On the occasion

1 of a party's first appearance through counsel, the 2 attorney in charge shall be designated in 3 writing"? That would give us the option to do it 4 on the pleadings.

5 This may say that you've got to comply with 6 attorney to show an authority; in other words, 7 have your client's own signature on something to 8 designate you, because it says "party" and they've 9 talked about counsel. We've, of course, hashed 10 that over the last couple days. But does it have 11 to be this way? "On the occasion of first 12 appearance by counsel, the attorney in charge" --

13 MR. BECK: "The attorney in charge 14 shall be designated."

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: "Shall be 16 designated."

17 MR. BRANSON: But who is going to 18 designate it with a party?

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, the lawyer
20 designates himself.

21 MR. LOW: In other words, you sign,
22 and say you take a case out in Marshall and, you 23 know, you're the lead -- and you sign the petition 24 that's got Scotty's name on there, but under your 25 name, you've got "attorney in charge."

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Just say, "It shall 2 be designated in writing" and leave it open how 3 that gets done.

4 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): So, on the 5 original petition, instead of putting "of counsel"
6 under there or "counsel for the plaintiff," you 7 just put "attorney in charge"?

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's right.

9 PROFESSOR EDGAR: You can put 10 "attorney for plaintiff" and then say "attorney in 11 charge" underneath it or something.

12 MR. BRANSON: I would move an 13 amendment to Sam's motion, who to mail it, that 14 is, rather than stopping the party, we merely 15 drop-out "fully authorized." That way you get 16 away from the argument that they're talking about 17 to continue.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is there a second
19 for the amendment?

20 MR. BRANSON: Pardon?

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is there a second
22 for that amendment? Okay. That fails for lack of 23 a second.

24 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Luke, let me
25 say that my motion -- I don't think I stated it,

1 but it intended to have Judge Wallace's second 2 sentence in it.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Sure. Let me read
4 it as I've got it now. "On the occasion of a 5 party's first appearance --"

6 PROFESSOR EDGAR: "Through counsel."

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: "-- through counsel, 8 the attorney in charge for such party shall be 9 designated in writing. If the attorney in charge 10 is not so designated, the attorney signing the 11 original pleading of a party shall be the attorney 12 in charge."

13 MR. LOW: Maybe more than one signed 14 "the attorney."

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: What's that Buddy?

16 MR. LOW: Sometimes we'll have a 17 couple of lawyers actually sign, you know. Would 18 you want all attorneys or the first? Because I've 19 seen pleadings where there will be -- Tony and I 20 always sign together if we've got a case 21 together.

22 MR. BRANSON: Wouldn't one of them
23 have to sign as attorney in charge?

24 MR. LOW: I understand. But, see, if 25 you don't -- this deals with, if you don't, then

1 who is it?

2 MR. MCCONNICO: First.

3 MR. LOW: Well, that's what I'm 4 saying. Whose name appears first?

5 MR. BRANSON: You can go back and 6 change that according to this rule.

7 PROFESSOR EDGAR: It seems to me,
8 though, that you shouldn't set up a rule and say 9 it shall be done, but if it isn't done, then so 10 and so.

11 MR. MCCONNICO: You don't have any 12 choice.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Try this: "If the 14 attorney in charge is not so designated, the 15 attorney first appearing in the signatures on the 16 the original pleading of the parties shall be the 17 attorney in charge." The top signature. Okay.
18 At least that's an arbitrary rule and people can 19 look at it and see.

20 JUSTICE WALLACE: Really, you'd be 21 surprised at how many -- after this rule, if it's 22 adopted, has been in effect for five years, you'll 23 be surprised at how many of them won't bother to 24 designate attorney in charge on the pleadings.

25 The lawyers in practice for 20 years are

1 going to continue to sign their pleadings just 2 like they have for the last 20 years. And you're 3 back with the problem with the clerk's office.
4 Who is in charge?

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So we'll start on 6 that. "On the occasion of the parties first 7 appearance through counsel, the attorney in charge 8 for such party shall be designated in writing. If 9 the attorney in charge is not so designated, the 10 attorney first appearing in the signatures of 11 counsel on the original pleading of the party 12 shall be the attorney in charge."

13 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Just say, "the 14 signature of the counsel who first appears."

15 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): I think we 16 are dealing with the English, and Hadley has got a 17 point. You can just say, "On the occasion of the 18 party's first appearance through the counsel, the 19 attorney first signing shall be the attorney in 20 charge; unless another attorney is specifically 21 appointed."

22 MR. MCCONNICO: Designated.

23 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Designated.
24 You've got a "shall" followed by --

25 MR. MCCONNICO: You can clean it up.

1 MR. BRANSON: Most Bar for many, many 2 years are not going to pick that change up, and 3 they're going to continue to sign it not realizing 4 they're designated attorneys in charge.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, let's just get 6 the guidelines from Judge Thomas on what we see 7 and she can work on the language. But if that's 8 what we're saying, you can designate, and if not,
9 it's the attorney whose signature first appears.
10 And then thereafter, there's no change in that 11 down to the word "party" in the fifth line. The 12 balance of that would be deleted in the motion.
13 And then we would have the first sentence of 14 second paragraph. Well, that's the only sentence 15 that's there now. Okay. How many in favor of 16 that?

17 JUDGE THOMAS: And I would suggest 18 that instead of "will," put "shall" in that one 19 sentence.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Judge, we're 21 going to leave it to you to rewrite this for our 22 next meeting in clear language, easier understood 23 language. With those suggestions then, are we in 24 favor of Rule 8 as proposed? Those in favor show 25 by hands. Opposed? Okay. That's unanimous.

1 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Let me just raise a 2 question, Luke. Now, this is an example. Now, we 3 have just given Judge Thomas some direction on how 4 to draft this rule. She drafts it, and then the 5 next time it comes before us, we have some members 6 present who weren't here this time. And then we 7 have to sit down and rehash it again and we may 8 not ever get anything done.

9 And I just suggest that we establish a ground 10 rule that once, in principle, a rule is resolved, 11 that we don't go back and try to reinvent the 12 wheel again. Otherwise, we'll never get anything 13 finally out of this committee.

14 MR. LOW: In other words, that we vote 15 to accept whatever she writes if it meets that 16 principle.

17 MR. MCCONNICO: The principle.

18 PROFESSOR EDGAR: That's right.
19 Otherwise, we'll never get anything done. And 20 we're just getting bogged down more and more and 21 more and more. And I suggest that we --

22 MR. MCCONNICO: Is that a motion?

23 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes, it is.

24 MR. MCCONNICO: I second it.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Having been on this

1 committee many years, I just say to you this: The 2 Supreme Court wants to hear all the debate it can 3 on rules changes. And if somebody shows up next 4 time that's got a hell of an idea or a real 5 substantive point to make that counters the action
6 of this committee at a prior time, my perception 7 of the way the committee has always been run and 8 asked to do its business is that the Supreme Court
9 would want to hear that. And we have gotten a 10 tremendous amount of work done here this time than 11 we have in the past. I've never been at a meeting 12 where a speaker or person who wanted input was 13 ruled out of order because of a prior vote.

14 MR. LOW: Let them speak. The input 15 goes on, but we've already voted.

16 PROFESSOR EDGAR: They can go ahead
17 and talk into the record all they want to and the 18 Court can read the record. But I'm just talking 19 about trying to move business, Luke; that's all.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I don't see that 21 it's -- well, we can have a resolution. But how 22 do we not react to a really good point? We moved 23 business yesterday all day long.

24 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I know, but nothing, 25 though, that we did yesterday is going to go to

1 the Supreme Court in the form that will ultimately 2 go -- I mean, we're rehashing everything.

3 You see, it's going to come back to the floor
4 of the committee in another book later on. I
5 don't want to cut off debate, certainly. But it 6 seems to me that if we, as a committee, are going 7 to move business through the committee to the 8 Court, we have to adopt some kind of internal rule 9 that would prohibit it being rehashed again and 10 again. And I don't mean to cut anybody off.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right. Well, 12 it's been moved and seconded that we --

13 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): In a sense
14 this is like almost suspending the rules and let's 15 us do it another way, right?

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: How many feel like a 17 subsequent review should be limited to whether or 18 not the rewrite meets the committee's past 19 action? How many feel that the debate should be 20 open for rewrite at the next one even if it does 21 delay? It looks like there's a vote there, 5. I 22 don't know whether I stated your action. You 23 state it the way you want it.

24 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, I move that 25 once we have deliberated a rule and we have

1 instructed the draft to incorporate the changes 2 which we feel should be implemented, that there be 3 no further discussion at a subsequent meeting on 4 the merits of the rule that we acted upon at the 5 prior meeting.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: If that rule passes,
7 then what we did last time in response to Franklin
8 Jones' proposal, which changed it dramatically, 9 could not even have been heard. Because we gave 10 Franklin Jones a mandate to write a rule that did 11 a certain thing. And then next time we debated 12 two or three hours about that, and that mandate 13 was withdrawn.

14 MR. LOW: That's right, completely.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So, anyway, there's 16 a motion. And do you still have a second on that, 17 Steve?

18 MR. MCCONNICO: No. That's not really 19 the way I understood it, Hadley, what I was 20 seconding. Because I didn't see that we wouldn't 21 debate the merits. I thought the merits could 22 come back, but what -- voting, you know, principle 23 about the rule. I mean, I don't want to limit the 24 debate.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, what's the

1 difference between the principle and the merits?

2 MR. MCCONNICO: Well, what I'm saying
3 is, here's the way I just heard what happened --

4 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I'll withdraw the 5 motion. Let's go on about our business. We've 6 got too much other stuff to do.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Next item.

8 JUDGE THOMAS: All right. The next 9 item of concern since the present Rule 8, as we 10 have just talked in principle, would now talk 11 about the attorney in charge. It is proposed that 12 Rule 10, the present Rule 10 in the rules, be 13 amended and actually repealed and inserted therein
14 as a provision to withdraw counsel.

15 There are two different proposals in your 16 book. One on Page 90 and one on Page 105. One of 17 the problems that I see -- one of the ones that 18 particularly stands out, on Page 90, would be this 19 requirement that any substitution of counsel be 20 signed by the client, which is the proposed rule 21 in the book.

22 You will see on Page 105 that withdrawal of 23 counsel would be upon motion showing good cause or 24 upon presentation of a substitution, so forth, 25 with just a statement that it is with the approval

1 of the client and will not cause a delay.

2 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Luke, I've 3 got a small problem with that. You go to trial
4 and you've made a settlement offer, and you turn 5 around to your client and say, "I recommend you 6 take that" because you believe in it, and a client 7 doesn't see the liability problems, and they think 8 the case is worth a lot more than that, and they 9 say, "You're fired."

10 I mean, you're standing there at the 11 courthouse. How can I promise the Court there's 12 no delay? My client doesn't want me trying the 13 case. There are some problems.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We've got a recent 15 Supreme Court case, and I can't call it by name, 16 where there was, on the eve of trial, the client
17 fired his lawyer and hired another lawyer. And a 18 motion for continuance was filed. And it was 19 shown that the lawyer first representing the 20 client and the client were at extreme odds, and 21 the only inference that could be drawn from that 22 was that the representation of that client in that 23 case would be affected by their differences. And 24 the client's choosing of another lawyer was 25 appropriate, under the circumstances.

1           The trial judge put the case to trial. The 2 Appellate Court reversed and said that the trial
3 judge should have granted a continuance to permit 4 the second counsel to be prepared for trial that 5 one time. And almost stated that -- well, if you 6 read it, it almost says that a client is entitled 7 to do that one time. I mean, you don't really 8 look deeply into the relationship between the 9 lawyer and his first client or the lawyer and his 10 second client on the first time that comes up 11 because the presumption is that it's more or less 12 done in good faith.

13           Now, if it happens again, and the opinion 14 goes on to talk about how this can be abused, then 15 you closely scrutinize them because you may have a 16 client who has heard that this works and who just 17 picks a new lawyer on the eve of every trial and 18 raises hell with his last lawyer.

19           But the way this is written, the last 20 sentence on 105 -- 105 may be better written. It 21 seems to me like it probably is. But the last 22 line contradicts that case and could probably be 23 met with our -- what we've done in our other 24 instances in these changes that the substitution 25 is not being made for delay only, but that justice

1 may be done. If you have to show that, I think 2 there's nothing wrong with that part of it.

3 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, on the one
4 hand, you're dealing with the withdrawal of the 5 attorney, and then on the other hand, you're 6 dealing with a termination of the attorney-client
7 relationship by the client. And somehow I can 8 draw a distinction between -- if the attorney 9 withdraws in that context, just with withdrawal 10 context, that there should be no delay -- might be 11 required. But if there is a termination, a 12 unilateral determination, of the attorney-client 13 relationship by the client, then it seems to me we 14 could deal with that separately.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, there may be a 16 unilateral withdrawal of the lawyer because he has 17 been put in such an ethic situation. His client 18 still wants him to go forward, but he has been put 19 in a situation where he just can't do it.

20 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I know, but there's 21 a termination of -- I know what they're saying.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But this is the only 23 place you can get off the pleadings, right here in 24 Rule 10. There's not a termination rule.

25 MR. BRANSON: Let's say the attorney

1 determines somehow --

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And you do withdraw 3 from the representation whether you're forced to 4 or elect to or however it occurs.

5 MR. BRANSON: Somehow ethically he 6 can't proceed with the trial. You've got to have 7 some --

8 MR. BEARD: There's no reason why the 9 Court should do anything if the parties sign on to 10 an agreed order. All those requirements where 11 there are no problems you just -- I don't know.

12 MR. LOW: If you left it out, it 13 wouldn't make any difference; you just go on.

14 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Wouldn't that fall
15 under Subdivision A, though? If we have the 16 lawyer and the client that just can't get along or 17 there's an ethical problem, wouldn't that be the 18 good cause situation?

19 MR. BRANSON: How do you review that 20 on --

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That one I just gave 22 got reviewed. It is an appellate opinion.

23 MR. BRANSON: Well, is it abusive 24 discretion on the trial court for refusing to let 25 the lawyer out?

1                   CHAIRMAN SOULES: I guess it was from 2 abusive discretion standard. It got to you-all,
3 didn't it?

4                   JUSTICE WALLACE: Yes.

5                   CHAIRMAN SOULES: It has to be an 6 abusive discretion to get there.

7                   MR. BEARD: Well, a lot of 8 substitution counsel comes -- a lawyer decides 9 they'll represent the three parties and he decides 10 there is a conflict. So they get another lawyer 11 so you just have a substitution to agree on, sign 12 it and go on.

13                   MR. BRANSON: Why do we want the 14 presiding judge to pose the condition rather than 15 the trial judge?

16                   JUSTICE WALLACE: I think they're 17 talking about trial judge.

18                   MR. BRANSON: We need to be careful 19 about that.

20                   JUSTICE WALLACE: Oh, yes.

21                   MR. LOW: I think we ought to be 22 careful in all the rules to have "judge presiding"
23 and not "presiding judge."

24                   JUSTICE WALLACE: Particularly when 25 you're capitalizing "presiding judge" there.

1 CHAIRMAN SOULES: How about just 2 "imposed by the Court"?

3 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Yes.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

5 "Representation not to withdraw is sought for 6 delay only." Okay. With that, how many favor the 7 rule as proposed and subject to Judge Thomas' 8 rewrite?

9 MR. BRANSON: We're talking about the 10 one on 105?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: 105, that's right.
12 Opposed? That's unanimously approved.

13 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Let me ask you,
14 in the rewrite, should you address the "attorney 15 in charge" problem and just simply say, "The 16 substituted shall be the attorney in charge"?
17 Because Rule 8, as we've talked about it, really 18 doesn't cover it.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let's just leave "in 20 charge" where it appears both times.

21 PROFESSOR EDGAR: And then say, "Under 22 the state bar number of the substitute attorney, 23 who shall become the attorney in charge."

24 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I think you 25 ought to leave out the "in charge" where it's

1           knocked out because I don't think the rule makes 2           sense. It would be a conflict with the rules.
3           All you have to do is, getting out of the attorney
4           in charge under Rule 8, just file another 5           certificate and somebody else is the attorney in 6           charge. But the substitute attorney who signs on 7           should be the attorney in charge, and you can 8           apply 8 if he wants to change.

9                         CHAIRMAN SOULES: I see the problem
10           there, and I think what we need is a sentence that 11           says, "If the attorney in charge is the attorney 12           that withdraws, then the attorney substituted must 13           become the attorney in charge."

14                        MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I agree with 15           that.

16                        CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right. Then 17           another attorney in charge must be designated 18           because it might be some co-counsel that's already 19           there. "If the attorney in charge is the attorney 20           who withdraws, then another attorney in charge 21           must be designated." Does that get at that 22           problem?

23                        MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Yes.

24                        CHAIRMAN SOULES: We'd need that in 25           there, too, Judge Thomas.

1 JUDGE THOMAS: Okay.

2 JUSTICE WALLACE: All right. The one
3 who substituted will be the attorney in charge 4 unless otherwise designated.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, suppose it's a
6 co-counsel who withdraws.

7 JUSTICE WALLACE: The attorney in 8 charge is what we're talking about here.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Actually, the rule
10 reads, "with any attorney" -- Judge, we're over 11 here on Page 105. It's written a little bit more 12 broadly.

13 JUSTICE WALLACE: Yes. They struck
14 out "in charge." I see, okay.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So any lawyer who 16 gets out, another one can get in. For good cause 17 a lawyer can get out without putting another one 18 in. But if it's the attorney in charge who 19 withdraws, then another -- let's just put then 20 another -- "if the attorney in charge withdraws, 21 another attorney must be designated as attorney in 22 charge."

23 That would speak to something that is not 24 here. And that is, if no new counsel is brought 25 in. It could be a counsel already there. "If the 1 attorney withdrawing is the attorney in charge, 2 another counsel must be designated as attorney in 3 charge, designated of record with notice to the 4 other parties." Okay. We'll get that transcript 5 to you.

6 Now, with those changes is everybody still in 7 favor of the change? Any opposition? Okay. That 8 still stands unanimous. Okay. Judge, what's 9 next?

10 JUDGE THOMAS: All right. Go back, if 11 you would, to Page 94. And this is a proposed new 12 rule -- and under the new, as we have made some 13 amendments today, the number obviously would not 14 be 10-A. But attorney vacations, which is, I 15 know, the -- for instance, the Dallas courts are 16 trying to deal with at the present time with a 17 local rule. And that would be to assure an 18 attorney that he or she could designate a vacation
19 period not to exceed four weeks in either June, 20 July or August, and you get to go on vacation
21 without any further hassle with the Court.

22 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): It's a trap. I
23 move that we reject proposed Rule 10-A. Every 24 local court I practice in has local rules on 25 vacations and you work it out. If you put

1 something in the rules, I think it traps as much 2 as it gives freedom.

3 MR. BEARD: I second it.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Moved and seconded
5 that proposed 10-A be rejected. Is there any 6 further discussion? Those in favor show by hands.
7 Opposed? That is unanimously rejected.

8 JUDGE THOMAS: All right, moving to 9 Page 98. I would invite you to review this 10 proposed 10-B, and that is "Conflicts In Trial 11 Settings." And one editorial comment is, I 12 certainly would not like to see number 1 go into 13 effect. I see number 3, for instance, to be 14 really sort of a codification of practice.

15 MR. MCCONNICO: Judge, what's the 16 history of this proposed rule?

17 JUDGE THOMAS: Actually, this comes 18 about from the administrative judges. And the 19 problem being in the larger areas, the attorneys 20 working one court against the other. And "I can't 21 go to court; I'm in thus and so." And it really 22 is creating a lot of problems, I understand, in 23 the larger areas. I don't know about the smaller 24 counties.

25 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): This, again, is

1 a real problem for judges, in this Paragraph 4.
2 But I just don't see how we can handle a rule like 3 that, a rule that's not going to do anything, in 4 my judgment, but make it worse. And this rule 5 really doesn't do much.

6 MR. BEARD: I'm like Sam, I think 7 that's a problem that there's really no way to 8 draw a rule of the courts for abuses -- they've 9 got all sorts of things they can do. And I move 10 we reject this proposal.

11 MR. BRANSON: We might want to look at 12 something. And I, personally, had a very 13 unfortunate experience along these lines earlier 14 in my practice. One of the senior partners, who 15 had a comparable trial docket to mine, herniated a 16 disk in his back, and I inherited the six-month 17 period, his docket and mine, too. He was having 18 to announce ready on Monday mornings for about 19 that period of time on about 40 lawsuits every 20 Monday morning. Went to trial on one Monday in a 21 district court in Dallas, and it happened to be 22 the district court in Greenville had docket call 23 that Monday, so I sent an associate over to 24 announce that I was in trial, only to have my case
25 dismissed because I wasn't at docket call.

1           And when the trial judge that I was in with 2           called and said we've been in trial here for a
3           half a day, the judge then suggested that I
4           probably ought to have grievance proceedings
5           brought for having too many cases. I don't know 6           how you'd manage that, but it certainly was an 7           uncomfortable situation at the time.

8           PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, isn't this 9           something that Administrative Rules could more 10          effectively deal with than the Rules of Civil 11          Procedure?

12          MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Good judges can 13          deal with it.

14          PROFESSOR EDGAR: I mean, I'm talking 15          about, for example, comity. Couldn't the 16          presiding judge contact the local federal judges 17          and try and work out some type of comity in trial 18          settings rather than having something like that in 19          the Rules of Civil Procedure?

20          MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): I second Pat's
21          motion.

22          CHAIRMAN SOULES: The motion having 23          been moved and seconded that this be rejected.
24          Any further discussion? Those in favor show by 25          hands. Opposed? It is unanimously rejected.

1 JUDGE THOMAS: That's it for today.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's all that you
3 have, Judge?

4 JUDGE THOMAS: There's one other, but 5 I'll work on it. It's one that came in like last 6 week, and I can't find my letter.

7 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Here's one on Rule
8 3-A.

9 JUDGE THOMAS: Okay. Going back to 10 Page 82. There are actually two proposed changes 11 to 3-A. One appears on Page 82, and one appears
12 on Page 103.

13 The version on Page 82 coming from the 14 Counsel of Administrative Judges, it seems to me, 15 what they've done is they have said, "Okay. You 16 folks can make your local rules. You will first 17 send them to the administrative -- the presiding 18 judge of the administrative district, and you will 19 do it on or before a certain day each year. The 20 presiding judge will submit, in writing, either 21 support or opposition to the rules to the Supreme 22 Court on or before a certain day."

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: On this, are we in a 24 position more or less of having to wait on the 25 action on the Administrative Rules?

1 MR. BEARD: I move we table that.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Now, that's not the 3 case on Page 103, which is a little different.
4 The only thing Page 103 adds is that local rules, 5 after they have all been approved and done like 6 Rule 3-A now does, isn't it Judge, that they have 7 to be published for 30 days and made available to 8 counsel?

9 JUDGE THOMAS: Exactly.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any opposition to 11 those changes? Those in favor of those changes 12 show by hand.

13 MR. BRANSON: Will you give us just a 14 second?

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Sure. Absolutely.

16 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): I don't see
17 the changes.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It's just that 19 Paragraphs 3 and 4 are added.

20 JUDGE THOMAS: It just says that it
21 will not become effective until at least 30 days 22 after it's published.

23 MR. BRANSON: Would it be possible to 24 just put in an automatic kicker where copies of 25 the local rules are automatically furnished to

{

1 out-of-county lawyers that become involved with 2 litigation? This sure would expedite a lot of 3 things.

4 PROFESSOR EDGAR: How are you going to 5 get it mailed? I mean, are you going to put that 6 burden on the clerk of the court?

7 MR. BRANSON: Yes. Somebody deals
8 with the filing. If you've got a file mark on an 9 out-of-county lawyer, just send a copy of the 10 local rules. See, because what happens is, you've 11 got a copy of the local rules and they've been 12 amended. And you're dealing under amended set.
13 Then you're dealing under amended set. Then you're 14 attempting to act with your old set. And if 15 you're not in that county all the time, you 16 probably wouldn't know about the changes and you 17 think you've covered your backside and the 18 client's backside by originally requesting a set 19 of rules.

20 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I understand that.
21 But are you going to ask the clerk then to go 22 through all of the cases on file to see what 23 out-of-county lawyers have cases pending in the 24 court?

25 MR. BRANSON: Well, won't the clerk at

1 the time of filing know?

2 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I mean, I'm trying 3 to figure out how you implement it, Frank. That's 4 all I'm asking. How is the clerk going to know 5 that you have a case on file without going through 6 all the cases to see?

7 MR. BRANSON: How about the first time
8 the clerk mails something to the lawyer? I mean, 9 that's an easy time to check; they're having to 10 address envelopes anyway.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We're going to have 12 problems with the clerk, Frank, if we require them 13 to read the pleadings and decide whether or not 14 they need to send out rules, I think; I'm not 15 sure.

16 MR. BRANSON: Maybe no one else has 17 encountered that problem. We've encountered it a 18 time or two. And we thought we were diligent in 19 acting under the set of rules we had and they 20 weren't over a year or two old.

21 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Would it be 22 practical to have it every time a local rule is 23 changed to something to be published in Bar 24 Journal?

25 MR. MCCONNICO: That would not be

1 practical.

2 PROFESSOR EDGAR: But I'm trying to 3 think of a way, though, to give everybody notice
4 of changes in local rules. And I certainly think 5 it should be done. I think you ought to have fair 6 notice of changes. I'm just wondering how you can 7 do it.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: About the only way
9 you can do it is request it whenever you send in 10 your pleadings.

11 MR. BEARD: 3-A is changed by those 12 proposed Administrative Rules. It's just another 13 conflict we have, as they are now.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, not 105. I 15 don't think that --

16 MR. BEARD: Well, the proposed rule,
17 the presiding judge must approve all local rules 18 and all the courts in the county are supposed to 19 get together to -- the conflict.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Pat, not with what's 21 on Page 103. Because it doesn't give all that 22 schematic about how it finally gets to the Supreme 23 Court. It just says it's got to be approved by 24 the Supreme Court, and it's not going to be 25 approved by the Supreme Court until it goes

1 through the Administrative Rules if those are ever
2 adopted. Now, the one that's over here on 90 --

3 JUSTICE WALLACE: I think the Supreme 4 Court can very easily handle these unknown changes
5 in local rules because we can just set a policy, 6 we will approve local rules effective such and 7 such a date. And all that accumulates up and then 8 they will be approved and everybody will know 9 they've been approved until the next date that we 10 approve local rules there won't be any.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: For example, January 12 1 of even years or something like that.

13 JUSTICE WALLACE: Yes, like we're 14 talking about on rules.

15 MR. BRANSON: That's a good idea.
16 That's a good practical suggestion. With that in 17 mind, I don't see any problem.

18 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Those in 19 favor of the changes suggested on Page 103 to Rule 20 3-A, show by hands. Opposed? That's unanimously 21 adopted.

22 JUDGE THOMAS: That's it.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: There's a Rule 12
24 over here for disposition of exhibits. Judge, why 25 don't we just leave that for you review all this?

1 There's quite a letter from Ray Hardy that goes 2 from 106 to 110.

3 JUDGE THOMAS: It is all dealing with 4 the matters that we took up on where notices go 5 and so forth.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, we haven't
7 dealt with this disposition of exhibits part.

8 JUDGE THOMAS: Yes, that's why I was 9 asking Edgar earlier. I thought that probably 10 what we would want to do would be to handle 11 exhibits much like we handle the disposition, 12 including other things.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Will you work with 14 Hadley then?

15 JUDGE THOMAS: Sure.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And get some sort of 17 proposal on that for our next meeting. If you can 18 get these proposals to me, you know, as early as 19 you can, say 30 days. If you can get it to me by 20 the end of July or middle of August, then I can 21 get them in one of these books.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Did we cover the 23 proposed change to Rule 13?

24 JUDGE THOMAS: Well, what the Mesquite
25 attorney is asking on Page 116, Rule 13 be amended

1 to provide for contempt in cases where pleadings 2 are filed for the purposes of securing a delay of 3 the trial and of any hearing of the case.

4 JUSTICE WALLACE: That's contempt in 5 the presence of the court. He can deal with it 6 right then and there.

7 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Didn't we 8 handle that yesterday, too, on 18-A?

9 JUDGE THOMAS: Well, yes.

10 MR. BRANSON: What does Rule 2 of the 11 Federal Rules say? Does anybody know?

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Rule 13 deals with,
13 if you do all these things for the purpose of 14 securing and delaying the trial for cause. He 15 just wants that expanded to, not only trial of 16 cause, but also any hearing in the cause, instead 17 of just the trial of the cause. And really, Rule 18 13 is another one of the old rules that probably 19 never has been amended. I don't know how you can 20 bring a fictitious suit for the purpose of 21 delaying a cause.

22 MR. BRANSON: I was going to say, it 23 sounds to me like any time you try to change the 24 existing law, you're in violation of Rule 13.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: But that's not what

1 he's saying. Do we want to expand the application
2 of this rule in any hearing or just leave it 3 alone?

4 MR. BRANSON: Without regard to his 5 recommendation, is there a need, in all candor, to 6 look at Rule 13?

7 JUDGE THOMAS: Well, see my position
8 would be that Rule 13 doesn't really do anything
9 for us anyway. We have the inherent power, as I 10 understand it, by contempt.

11 JUSTICE. WALLACE: I mean, you can 12 deal with it summarily right then and there if 13 he's out of line.

14 JUDGE THOMAS: We have the new rules
15 on attorneys in contempt and how you handle those.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Is there a 17 motion to reject this Rule 13 suggestion? It's 18 been moved by Frank Branson and seconded by Judge 19 Thomas. We reject the proposal to have Rule 13 as 20 found on Page 116. Those who favor rejection?
21 Opposed? Okay. That's unanimously rejected.

22 MR. BRANSON: Would it be worthwhile
23 if we look at 13 to maybe just kick it around for 24 a minute, Luke?

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, Frank, let's

1 try to get through with what we've got here on the 2 docket, if you will. I mean, if you want to 3 rewrite something about that -- I realize it's 4 kind of an unusual rule, but let's try to get 5 through all of Judge Thomas' docket because we 6 wanted to -- I don't know if we'll ever get to 277
7 and 279 again at this meeting.

8 MR. BRANSON: Okay. I'll withdraw
9 it.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I'm just trying to 11 get on with what is on the docket. Let's see, 12 what is this suggestion on heritage?

13 PROFESSOR EDGAR: That goes back to 14 the supersedeas bond matter we discussed earlier.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, this 14-C,
16 though, this is not just supersedeas.

17 MR. BRANSON: But he says which, in 18 turn, could be used to supersede a judgment, and 19 then he goes on to talking about supersedeas 20 judgments, the whole problem.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. So we've 22 rejected this submission by Jim Kronzer on Pages
23 118 and 119?

24 PROFESSOR EDGAR: In the sense that he 25 recommended we consider something similar to

1 proposed Rule 364-A, which was rejected this 2 morning, the answer is "yes."

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And that was 4 rejected 8 to 4, as I understand it. I was not 5 here.

6 MR. BRANSON: Yes. Luke, could we 7 take just a minute and look at a housekeeping
8 problem?

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Yes, sir.

10 MR. BRANSON: I notice we're down here
11 at 20 minutes to 12 on the third day of this 12 meeting, and our number has diminished to much 13 less than we've had any other time. In light of 14 Hadley's recommendation earlier that we -- and 15 there's some merit to the proposition, that what 16 we're doing is one set of members of this 17 committee who are present at one meeting are 18 making recommendations. And the next time the 19 committee meets, a different majority is present 20 and additional recommendations are made. Might 21 we, perhaps, look at the issue of whether we 22 either want to recommended, which would encourage 23 people to remain at the meetings?

24 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The only thing, the 25 Committee on Administration of Justice up until

1 the early 80's and for a period before that -- I
2 don't know when it started -- became a very poorly
3 attended session. It was an honor to be on it, 4 but you didn't go to it and they didn't do any 5 business. And I'll just say that was the way it 6 was, because I was there about three years and 7 went to the meetings.

8 When the meetings became more frequent and 9 the Chair refused to entertain motions to 10 challenge lack of quorum and business started 11 rolling through that committee, attendance picked 12 up. And I think it's still good. The only thing 13 we can do, of course, is just keep having sessions 14 and hope people will be here.

15 But the sense of it that we would change what 16 we would listen to has been voted on.

17 MR. BRANSON: Let me give you an 18 example. We're now about to address 277.

19 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No. I don't know if 20 we're ever going to get there.

21 MR. BRANSON: But assume we did, Luke.
22 That was discussed, generally, in very heated 23 discussions before most of the full committee.
24 Now, what we're dealing with today are really 25 recommendations that represent a majority of the 1 whole committee.

2 And this group came down on those issues with 3 a slightly different vote, which is certainly 4 possible. We would then, by majority present on a 5 subsequent date, change the wishes of the whole.
6 And I'm not saying it's right or wrong. It's just 7 a housekeeping problem that might be worth
8 addressing, particularly, in light of Hadley's 9 previous motions. Is there any feel from the 10 Chair or any other members of the committee?

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The only feeling I 12 have is, we can only work with the people that are 13 here. And those that are not here -- and some of 14 them have very good reasons that I know of. And I 15 imagine others have very good reasons that you-all 16 know of. But we are going to tend to our business 17 when the sessions have been declared to be in 18 session. And I'm not trying to be arbitrary about 19 that, Frank; I just don't know any other way to do 20 it.

21 MR. BRANSON: Well, I'm just asking --

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I think at any time
23 that somebody feels that we don't have a 24 representative group for a specific matter, and 25 the specifics of that are brought to the attention

1 -- and a consensus -- like Franklin Jones and Jim 2 Kronzer are not here. They were very active, the 3 two of them and others on the charge issues. And 4 if the committee wants to -- because I'm sure they 5 both have good reasons for not being here. I say, 6 let's wait until next and give them another chance 7 to come and we table by vote any individual 8 items. I think that's certainly something that 9 the Chair would have to entertain, but we can 10 hardly entertain the foregoing of business.

11 MR. BRANSON: That handles the 12 problem.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Does that handle it 14 for you?

15 MR. BRANSON: Yes.

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Maybe that's 17 the motion that you would have, and that we table
18 to the charge issues until next time; I don't 19 know. I mean, I'm not trying to suggest a motion, 20 but Hadley, I know, would like to get on with it.
21 What is the consensus? Should we go on to other 22 matters or should we turn to those at this 23 juncture?

24 PROFESSOR EDGAR: David Beck asked me
25 earlier -- we didn't take a break, he just asked

1 me if I thought we were going to take them up, and 2 I said I really didn't think we were. And he 3 said, "Well, I sure would stay if we were."

4 So I would suggest that we go on to other 5 matters if we can, and defer any consideration of 6 those until we do have a larger committee.
7 Because this is a very sensitive area, and I don't 8 think that we ought to try and solve those more 9 important problems if you can assign relative 10 areas of importance without a larger 11 representation.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Which is easier for 13 people, Saturday morning? I'm trying to figure 14 out when in our September sessions we're going to 15 have the most people here. Of course, that's 16 reading the crystal ball. Do you think we'll have 17 more people here Friday morning or Saturday 18 morning?

19 MR. NIX: Friday morning.

20 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): We've never had 21 a good turn out on Saturday morning, never.

22 MR. SPARKS (SAN ANGELO): Luke, I
23 don't think that answers the problem. I think you 24 said it right on the head. Because what I see 25 happening -- the Task Force Rules, we sat here and

1 talked about those all day Thursday. First thing
2 I hear -- you got a revelation on the way down 3 here. I mean, these things are hashed over and 4 over and over.

5 Now, again, are you going to say there's more 6 people here on Friday mornings, we're going to 7 take up 277. I'll guarantee you that Saturday
8 morning it will be talked about again. The answer
9 is attendance of the meeting. I think you've said 10 that, and I agree with you.

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: I want to get a 12 schedule on 277 and 279 at the point in time where 13 those few of us that are left feel like we're 14 going to have the most people. And I'll put it on 15 the agenda first thing either Saturday morning or 16 Friday morning so that we can get to it next 17 time. We had other matters that were pretty much 18 imposed on us for scheduling-wise it this time.

19 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): You'll have 20 more here Friday.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: -- has been delayed
22 three times, and we had rules we had to get to and 23 the Administrative Rules and now we're here. How 24 many feel that that should be set first thing 25 Friday morning, the charge? All right. On

1 September the 12th.

2 . MR. BRANSON: Luke, it might be
3 better to set it about 10 o'clock on Friday
4 morning because what happens is the same thing 5 that happened this time. Some of us were here at 6 8:30 and some people had airplanes that were late 7 getting here and that has historically been the 8 way -- generally, most people arrive by 9 mid-morning on the first day.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Give me this 11 leeway. Justice Pope, of course, is still one of 12 our representatives. He is inactive, and 13 deservedly so in many cases. And he could not be 14 here today at this time because of a conflict.

15 I will, with your permission, call him and 16 ask him when he can be here and then say that 17 whatever we're doing, if he can be here at all, at 18 that time and on that day. Maybe that's the best 19 way to do it, that we're going to take it up while 20 he's here and let him speak to it at noon. Is 21 that okay?

22 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Sure.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. And I'll try
24 to get it, though, on Friday so that -- I think, 25 the consensus is that we'll have more people here

1 Friday.

2 Okay. What else, Judge. We've got 27-A or 3 B. Are those in your bailiwick?

4 JUDGE THOMAS: No.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. We've covered
6 all those with Sam's report anyway. Now, let's go
7 to -- Sam, I'm trying to get to 215. It's a
8 suggestion by Judge Phillips. And is that the one 9 we acted on where he just wanted to enter an order 10 compelling discovery in the sanctions?

11 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Yes.

12 CHAIRMAN SOULES: So we've acted on 13 that.

14 MR. SPARKS (EL PASO): Yes. And
15 wasn't that just rejected?

16 CHAIRMAN SOULES: It was. We've 17 covered all Judge Thomas' rules, and all of Sam's 18 rules. And Franklin's we're going to delay 19 unless --

20 PROFESSOR BLAKELY: Mr. Chairman,
21 you're not assuming that you're finished with Item
22 6, the Evidence Committee?

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: No. And that's 24 right.

25 PROFESSOR BLAKELY: There's one tiny

1 little item.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let's cover that.

3 PROFESSOR BLAKELY: All right. This 4 begins on Page 657. This deals with 3737-h. The 5 1985 legislature rewrote 3737-h and put it in the 6 Civil Practice Remedies Code. It made no changes 7 in substance; it simply rewrote the form as part 8 of the legislature's continuing codification 9 process and it does repeal 3737-h.

10 At the same time, the same legislature
11 amended 3737-h as if it were alive and well, 12 changing notice times and changing the 13 qualifications of the counter-affiant; it upped 14 the qualifications. Mr. Gary Beckworth wrote in, 15 and on page 657 I've quoted the key paragraph from 16 his letter. He says, "It appears that the 17 repealer in the amendment pursuant to, so and so,
18 does not preserve for causes filed after September 19 1 of the authority of Section 1(a)."

20 Well, insofar as 3737-h basically is 21 concerned, it's now still alive over in the Civil 22 Practice and Remedies Code. The legislative 23 action that ups the qualifications of the 24 counter-affiant and that changes the notice time
25 -- lengthens the notice time, must be construed

1 with the Civil Practices and Remedies Code rewrite 2 and it would prevail.

3 So, in essence, 3737-h is still on the books
4 as a part of the Civil Practice and Remedies Code,
5 but must be read with the legislative amendment
6 with higher requirements that superimpose.

7 So I think the legislature has attended to 8 Mr. Beckworth's concerns. His letter indicates 9 that this might be a part of the Rules of 10 Evidence. The Rules of Evidence Committee does 11 not want 3737-h in the Rules of Evidence because 12 it deals with sufficiency of evidence. And our 13 effort has been to limit the Rules of Evidence to 14 admissibility and one from sufficiency.

15 So I recommend that this committee tell the 16 Supreme Court that we feel that the legislature 17 has attended to Mr. Beckworth's concerns. And 18 this detailed analysis that I put in over here on 19 659 and 660 explains all of that in more detail.
20 So I move that this committee notify the Supreme 21 Court. We feel that the Court should take no 22 particular action on that.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Second?

24 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Second.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Discussion? All in

1 favor show by hands. Opposed? That's unanimously 2 rejected. That is, the suggestion to be made is 3 unanimously rejected. And the Court will be 4 employing this. The Legislature, in our judgment, 5 has handled the problem.

6 Pat, why don't we cover some of your rules.
7 We're scheduled to be here until 1 o'clock. Can 8 we take five minutes or ten? Let's recess until 9 noon and then we'll spend an hour on Pat Beard's 10 area.

11
12 (Brief recess.)

13
14 MR. BEARD: Turn to Page 503.

15 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The exotics of 16 extraordinary risks. Page 503.

17 MR. BEARD: We have Rules 657, 621-A 18 and 696. The only changes are to change the 19 referencing to revise the Civil Statutes to the 20 new Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code. I 21 move that we adopt these amendments in all three 22 of those rules.

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That's 657 on 503.

24 MR. BEARD: And 621-A which follows
25 and 696.

1 MR. MCCONNICO: Second.

2 JUDGE TUNKS: What page is that?

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Page 503, 4, and 5,
4 isn't it?

5 MR. BEARD: Right. 503, 4, 5, and 6.

6 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any discussion?
7 Those in favor, show hands. Those are adopted
8 unanimously.

9 MR. BEARD: Next change here is a
10 proposed new Rule 37, which was suggested by Jay 11 Jogelson in Dallas, which I drafted.

12 John O'Quinn opposed this following the 13 federal statute on interlocutory appeals on 14 questions which might be resolved by an appellate 15 ruling.

16 It is my recommendation that we reject this 17 proposed rule. If an interlocutory question which 18 would dispose of the case is involved, that would 19 mean that it's a novel question that the Supreme 20 Court has not acted on.

21 The statute would not give the Supreme Court 22 any jurisdiction except on a conflict question.
23 If it's a novel question there wouldn't be any 24 real conflict. So I see nothing to be gained by 25 taking the appeal to the Court of Appeals to make

1 the ruling to then dispose of the case and then go
2 back down and enter an order and then have to go
3 all the way back up again. And, now --

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: You may not have 5 jurisdiction in the Court of Appeals for that 6 anyway under the statute.

7 MR. BEARD: Well, it's my opinion that 8 we have the power to adopt the rules to give 9 appeals on interlocutory orders.

10 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay.

11 MR. BEARD: There are those who 12 disagree with me about that, but I think we do.
13 But, nevertheless, there's nothing to be 14 accomplished when we really don't dispose of the 15 case. So I move that we reject.

16 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I second the motion.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Any discussion?
18 Those who favor rejecting this, show by hands.
19 Opposed? That is unanimously rejected.

20 MR. BEARD: The next proposal to amend
21 621-A, Rule 627.

22 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That starts on Page
23 513.

24 MR. BEARD: Page 513. And this is the 25 discovery -- to stop discovery after the rendition

1 of a judgment. Under our present Rules, as soon
2 as a judgment is rendered, the prevailing party,
3 the plaintiff, I guess it would be in most cases, 4 has the right to begin discovery, unless the 5 supersedeas bond is posted.

6 I wrote to my committee that I was opposed to 7 the proposed amendment to change and it was my 8 opinion that we should leave the rule as it is, 9 and for the committee to advise me if they 10 disagreed. I heard from no members of the 11 committee. So I move that Mr. Pace's proposed 12 changes be rejected.

13 PROFESSOR BLAKELY: Seconded.

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The effect of this 15 is to permit discovery immediately following 16 judgment before motion for new trial or that sort 17 of thing has been ruled on. And that's what the 18 rules are now.

19 MR. BEARD: That's what the rules are 20 now.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And our vote would 22 be to leave that like it is, not to change it as 23 requested. How many feel that the practice as it 24 is now should be retained? Show by hand. How 25 many feel that this change should be adopted? All

1 right. The change is rejected unanimously.

2 MR. BEARD: Let me get over to the 3 next -- repeat some of the back up. There have 4 been several suggestions to change the rules
5 concerning temporary restraining orders. Judge
6 Thomas has referred to that discussion about 7 something here, and that is the Court enters the 8 TRO and can't find the defendant to serve him
9 so --

10 PROFESSOR BLAKELY: Excuse me, Pat, 11 what page.

12 MR. BEARD: It starts on page 565.

13 CHAIRMAN SOULES: 565, okay.

14 MR. BEARD: One of the suggestions was 15 that the TRO remain in effect and that you have 16 regular docket calls on TROs. It goes back to 17 really, I suppose, more of a big city problem.

18 It would appear to me that if you can't get 19 the defendant served with a TRO, there's not all 20 that much necessity for that TRO because you can't 21 find him, and he's going to be acting -- or 22 whatever he's going to do anyway.

23 I realize that in domestic relation cases if 24 you get the TRO and lay it on him, that might 25 prevent him from going and beating up his wife or

1 what have you. I don't know of any way to have a 2 uniform rule throughout Texas because these 3 multi-county districts have no way to come back to 4 have a hearing on a regular docket call to take 5 care of TROs and domestic relation cases.

6 So in that effect, I just gave up on any 7 practical way to do it. And it's my 8 recommendation that we leave the rules as they are 9 with respect to TRO's and they would expire. If 10 you don't serve --

11 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Don't make any 12 special exceptions for family matters is requested
13 here.

14 MR. BEARD: I don't know how to do it
15 in a family matter. You've got to have a time in 16 which it's going to be heard, and you can't do 17 that -- maybe Dallas or Houston can do that and 18 have a judge available to hear all those TROs.
19 There's no way to do that in most of the state.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: The Committee on 21 Administration of Justice voted to reject these 22 proposed changes of 680 and 683 that are contained 23 here, except the Committee on Administration of 24 Justice voted to change the 10 days to 14 days 25

1 because 10 days -- if you get a TRO on Friday --
2 let's see, how do you count the days?

3 I think you have to have the hearing the 4 following Friday because you can't even make it to 5 Monday and no one knows, really, whether the 10th 6 day expires if it's Sunday or if it's extended to 7 the next day, which is neither a Saturday, Sunday 8 or a legal holiday as some things get extended.

9 And if you have a time period in the TRO 10 that's 14 days, any weekday that you enter that 11 order on or sign the order, it's going to fall on 12 a weekday on the 14th day, and that makes sense.

13 MR. BEARD: That may be acceptable in 14 domestic relation cases, but I'm opposed to 15 extending any time to let TROs. It needs to be 16 heard.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, 10 to 14 days
18 only -- just so we don't run into this question of 19 exactly what day is the 10th day. We know what 20 day is the 14th day if the thing is signed on a 21 weekday. In other words, it would only add 4
22 days, Pat, it doesn't add anything else.

23 MR. BEARD: I am philosophically
24 opposed to extending that time when you have those 25 TROs without notice. I think they can be heard

1 because the courts tend to, you know, extend them
2 and do all sorts of things anyway.

3 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, shall we vote
4 on everything except whether we go from 14 to 10, 5 because that's the only thing that was recommended
6 by the COAJ, or do we just want to vote it all 7 down? Let me just say, first -- let me take a 8 vote. How many would reject these proposals 9 except, perhaps, for extending 10 to 14? We'll 10 take a vote on that.

11 MR. BRANSON: Could I hear from Judge
12 Thomas on how -- whether or not she thinks 13 anything can be done in the DR courts or needs to 14 be done different?

15 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I'd like to hear
16 from Judge Thomas, too.

17 JUDGE THOMAS: As I understand the 18 position of the counsel to be, and all of this 19 originated out of the family law counsel is, if 20 they really had their wishes, I think what they 21 would want is the family law matters actually 22 exempted from the rule. I personally am not 23 particularly in favor of that, but would be in 24 favor of an additional four days.

25 The problems are really in the smaller

1 counties because the larger metropolitan areas we 2 have our temporary restraining order dockets
3 almost daily anyway. So it's not a problem in 4 Dallas or Fort Worth, Houston.

5 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Those who would 6 reject everything but the extension of time and 7 then we'll get a vote on that. You may vote to 8 reject that, too, but those who reject everything 9 but the extension of time as suggested for 680 and 10 683 show by hands. Okay. Those who are in favor 11 of adopting those? Those are rejected
12 unanimously.

13 Okay. On the issue of changing 10 to 14
14 days, how many favor changing to 14 days? How 15 many would keep the 10 days, would want to keep 16 the 10 days? 5 to 3. So 10 to 14 days passes 5
17 to 3.

18 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Let's go back just 19 briefly to Page 543 for just a minute.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right.

21 PROFESSOR EDGAR: This is rule 621
22 which we are voting to retain. It refers to 23 Article 3773. Is that now part of a remedies code
24 or anything? Should that reference be recodified 25 in any way? I guess maybe you'll know.

1 PROFESSOR BLAKELY: No, I don't.

2 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I'm just wondering
3 while we're cleaning that up if Rule 621-A makes 4 reference to Article 3773-A VATS. And I'm just 5 wondering if that statutory reference should be 6 changed.

7 MR. BEARD: I don't know. Really, I
8 did not look at it.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We might check it.
10 It's probably a 10-year statute, isn't it?

11 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I don't know, but 12 nearly everything has been changed. And it just 13 seems to me that --

14 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Would you check
15 that, Pat?

16 MR. BEARD: Yes. Wicker sent those 17 things in and I just put them in there without 18 ever, you know, double checking it myself. I was 19 assuming he got them all.

20 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. Let's see.
21 That gets us to what page, Pat?

22 MR. BEARD: Now, we go to Page 579.
23 Under the present rule 685 the language is, "Upon 24 the grant of a temporary restraining order the 25 party to whom it is granted shall file his

1 petition, therefor." And the question that was 2 raised is another big city problem, I guess, and 3 that is that you can go select your judge first to 4 get your TRO before you file it. And we've lived
5 with this rule for a long time, and as far as I'm 6 concerned, I would reject the proposed change and 7 leave it just like it is.

8 MR. BRANSON: Second.

9 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Moved and seconded.
10 Any further discussion? Those who would reject 11 the proposed change to Rule 685 show by hands, 12 please.

13 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Well, Keltner raises
14 a question here, and I don't know if it's a real 15 one or not. But at the bottom of Page 579, that 16 this perhaps might result in a situation where you 17 seek it and have it refused and then you go 18 somewhere else.

19 MR. BEARD: Well, I think that can 20 very well occur. I don't object to that.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: And the discussion
22 of COAJ was, you've got only 10 now. If we can 23 get the change to the Supreme Court 14 days, any 24 party can file a motion to dissolve -- I mean, you 25 can get back into court quickly if you need be and

1 that -- you know, maybe it's not as big of an evil 2 as it should be because if you start trying to 3 restrict which judge can hear these you may not 4 get the meritorious ones acted on.

5 Really, this is not something that we're 6 trying to foster, that is, go from one judge to 7 another until you finally get your orders signed.
8 But in order to have enough freedom to get an 9 order signed that you may need to get signed, 10 that's just one of evils that can be present in 11 the event of abuse or preference.

12 MR. BEARD: Outside of domestic 13 relations, you have to post a bond, you take a 14 certain risk. In the big city you don't know what 15 court your ending up with. I just wouldn't 16 change it.

17 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Well, it was the 18 talk; I mean, it was discussed. Okay. So that's 19 unanimously rejected. And I got the vote.

20 MR. BEARD: I believe that, as far as 21 I know, are all the matters that my subcommittee 22 --

23 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Let's see. Well,
24 we've got Wicker's --

25 MR. BEARD: Those are already taken

1 care of. You repeated some of this.

2 CHAIRMAN SOULES: We did?

3 MR. BEARD: Yes. We've got several 4 things that are repeated. Those are matters that 5 have already been covered. I'll have to go back
6 and see about this reference. But those cover all 7 the matters of my subcommittee.

8 CHAIRMAN SOULES: All right. What 9 about these on 598 and 599? Is that somebody 10 else's? These are the 7 -- yes, these are Jim 11 Kronzer's rules.

12 All right. Is there any other business?

13 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I would like just,
14 very briefly, to refer the committee, for no 15 action, but simply for informational purposes, to 16 the letter which you were given when you arrived
17 under cover from Fulbright and Jaworski from David 18 Beck, which was the report which was assigned to 19 David to redraft the Rules 277, 290, whatever they 20 are, charge rules.

21 And showing you how the wisdom of committee
22 action over individual thought is a wise thing, I 23 have to point out to you that I have to take 24 advantage of something that -- a motion which I 25 proposed was defeated a while ago. Because in

1 going back and redrafting Rule 277, as a result of 2 this committee's decision at our last meeting, I 3 felt that we had created a real nightmare for 4 ourselves, in that there might be some kinds of 5 cases which we could not submit broadly; you
6 couldn't submit by a general charge or a checklist 7 or by limiting instructions on a broad form, such 8 as worker's compensation.

9 And so I asked David to include the sentence
10 that appears here on the first page of Rule 277, a 11 little below the center of the page saying, "only 12 if required by the substantive law, such as 13 worker's compensation is the submission of 14 separate questions permitted." That shouldn't be 15 "submitted"; it should be "permitted." That's a 16 typo. Now, that is a change.

17 And my thought was that for us to sit here in 18 a committee and say that broad form checklist 19 limiting instructions would automatically submit 20 every conceivable kind of case, may be 21 presumptuous. And I felt that we should leave 22 some type of escape valve; a very severe stringent 23 escape valve. But if it's required by the 24 substantive law, then, perhaps the separate 25 question is going to be necessary, and I don't

1 know what language should be used.

2 I don't have any pride of authorship, but I
3 thought of worker's compensation and I've talked 4 to a number of lawyers. In fact, I attended the 5 subcommittee meeting of Pat in jury charge Volume 6 2 the other day for one purpose, to ask them
7 about this problem. And they unanimously told me
8 that they did not think that you could submit a 9 comp case either on a broad form, Nemos vs.
10 Montez-type (phonetic) submission or a general
11 charge or a checklist. And they thought that this 12 language might be necessary because in trying -- 13 they have a responsibility to try and prepare some 14 worker's comp charges for a revision of Volume 2.
15 And if they can only prepare them based upon the 16 guidelines we're giving them in Rule 277, they 17 don't know how to do it.

18 Now, also, I've taken a look at the charge in 19 the Pennzoil case. Now, that was submitted on 20 separate questions. And I don't profess to know 21 enough about that particular area of the law to 22 say that you could submit it on a general charge
23 or a broad form or by checklist. I don't think 24 you can, but all I'm saying is that, we need to 25 think very carefully and allow some wiggle room

1 here and make it tight. I mean, we certainly 2 don't want courts to be able to submit cases by 3 separate questions, unless they just absolutely 4 require to do so.

5 MR. NIX: Wiggle room, such as the 6 language that you've talked about?

7 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes. We need to 8 have some type of escape valve, Harold, that's all 9 I'm saying.

10 MR. NIX: I understand. I certainly 11 agree with that.

12 PROFESSOR EDGAR: There may not be any 13 areas of substantive law that require separate 14 questions, but if there are then I think that we 15 need to provide for it. That's all I'm saying.
16 This is a very substantial addition to what we 17 approved last time. And because of the few people 18 here, I certainly don't think that we should 19 consider it today, but I did feel like I could 20 call it to your attention now so that you could be 21 thinking about it when we talk about it in 22 September.

23 MR. BRANSON: Hadley, couldn't you
24 handle a comp case, for example, by a general 25 charge with special interrogatories following it?

1                   PROFESSOR EDGAR: But once you have 2 special interrogatories, though, then your 3 submitting separate questions.

4                   MR. BRANSON: Well, but the truth of 5 the matter is you're getting -- as I have 6 encountered special interrogatories in the federal 7 court. You go ahead and get your charge answered, 8 in a general charge, and then the Court follows it 9 for it's own edification, ordinarily, with special 10 questions to allow the Judge to draw judgment.

11                   Well, the judge has said total -- the jury 12 has said total and permanent from the beginning, 13 or they've said permanent, partial; or they've 14 said no injury. And then the Court could go back 15 and by special interrogatories and get the 16 beginning dates -- any date of total, the 17 beginning date of partial, that type thing.

18                   PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes, but you see 19 then you're not submitting on the broad form, nor 20 are you submitting by checklist or by limiting 21 instructions.

22                   MR. BRANSON: Why couldn't you draw a 23 checklist that would do that, though?

24                   PROFESSOR EDGAR: Let me just say
25 this: I talked to Franklin about this the other

1 day and he told me he was going to be unable to be 2 here. I told him what I wanted to include, and he 3 said, "I've tried to prepare a worker's comp case
4 on a general charge and I've got to confess to you 5 that I don't know how to do it," he said that.

6 MR. NIX: I did the same thing
7 recently, Hadley, and I just simply couldn't do it 8 either, frankly.

9 PROFESSOR EDGAR: And all I'm saying
10 is that, whether a worker's comp case -- and maybe 11 we shouldn't include such as worker's compensation 12 here, but it just seems to me that we need to 13 recognize that there might be some kinds of cases 14 in which the substantive law will not permit the 15 court to submit the way that we're proposing it be 16 done. And we need to provide some type of 17 relief. That's all I'm saying.

18 MR. BRANSON: Let me ask you a 19 question, and it may not be relevant, but what's 20 the problem? Why can't you -- it's been a long 21 time since I tried a comp case, but it seems to me 22 like if you put the definitions of total and 23 temporary in and ask early on and define all that 24 in the general charge and then said if you have 25 found an injury, then do you find it to produce

1 any disability, permanent; or if not permanent,
2 did it produce temporary on the ending dates?

3 Why can't you put all that in the general
4 charge and then close it with some checklist-type 5 questions? That's almost what a short form is 6 anyway.

7 MR. NIX: You could do that, but 8 that's not really what I'm considering to be a 9 general charge.

10 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Me neither. Once
11 you start including special interrogatories then 12 you're really not talking about a general charge.

13 MR. BRANSON: But you're not talking 14 about something that encourages the trial court to 15 go back to single issue submission, either.

16 MR. NIX: Yes. Your point is 17 well-taken, Frank, but it is something -- however, 18 Hadley's point is, too, and it's something we all 19 agree that we need to look at before --

20 PROFESSOR EDGAR: All I'm saying is 21 that we need to think very carefully in thinking 22 that we have covered all conceivable types of 23 cases. And I don't know this much about trust or 24 a title, either. I do know that's a statutory 25 form of action, and I don't know whether some

1 types of cases you might have to ask separate 2 questions.

3 MR. NIX: I don't know either.

4 MR. BEARD: Well, any time that your 5 theory of the law is wrong in the way you charge 6 the jury, the antitrust cases that clash with the 7 Fifth Circuit reverses over and over under the 8 general charge because the charge in the law was 9 wrong and they couldn't tell what the net effect 10 of the answers were, go back and try again.

11 MR. BRANSON: But if your charge on 12 the law is wrong, it's going to be the same thing 13 in special issues.

14 MR. BEARD: Not necessarily in an 15 antitrust case.

16 MR. MCCONNICO: I think what Hadley is 17 saying is, there's just no way we can foresee all 18 the ways these cases are going to be submitted, 19 and consequently we've got to have some wiggle
20 room and just make it restricted.

21 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That makes sense.

22 PROFESSOR EDGAR: I just simply wanted
23 to call that to the committee's attention to 24 consider at the next meeting.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: That makes sense. I

1           CHAIRMAN SOULES: That makes sense. I
2           guess one last matter, Bill Dorsaneo wrote to 3           Justice Wallace and indicated that the Appellate 4           Rules had a couple of very small changes that 5           needed to be done. Just, in effect, typos.

6           JUSTICE WALLACE: That second 7           paragraph, Luke, West Publishing caught that and 8           called and told me to make that correction. I 9           told my secretary to get in touch with the guy at 10          West and see if they could not get those other 11          corrections made. And I don't know what luck 12          she's had, but I think we may have gotten that 13          thing taken care of.

14          CHAIRMAN SOULES: Okay. So we put a 15          copy of that in everybody's file and I'm sure 16          everybody has approved them. Is there any dissent
17          from approving these suggested by Bill? Okay.
18          That's unanimous. And West hopefully has the 19          directive all ready on that.

20          All right. Thanks for raising that, Hadley.
21          It is an important consideration. We'll certainly 22          have that before the committee. That's in the 23          draft that David provided. And that will be in 24          our materials and where that appears is behind his 25          cover letter. That would be the same as Rule 277

1 in about the middle of page the. Language again 2 is, "only if required by the substantive, such as 3 worker's compensation, is a submission of separate 4 questions permitted."

5 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes. And there was 6 really another question, too, that David and I had 7 and that's on Page 3.

8 He thought when he was given the charge by 9 the Chairman, that he was to take this first 10 paragraph on Page 3 and place it in another rule 11 because it really doesn't concern, necessarily, 12 the submission in cases but the form of the 13 submission.

14 But then when he and I went back and looked 15 at the minutes, they read kind of like there was a 16 general suggestion that it should be done. And 17 then somebody raised a question, and then the tide
18 flowed the other way. And there never was a 19 specific direction to him to take and try and put 20 that somewhere else.

21 And so I suggested that he just kind of put a 22 bracket around it and call it to the committee's 23 attention that they really didn't resolve what 24 they wanted to be done, in that regard.

25 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Would you be able to

1 present that to the committee at the next 2 meeting?

3 PROFESSOR EDGAR: Yes, you bet.

4 CHAIRMAN SOULES: Is there any other
5 business?

6 Well, thanks to all of you for being here.
7 It's 12:30 and we're adjourned until 8:30 in the 8 morning on September the 12th, 1986; that's a 9 Friday. We'll work until 5:30 that day and have 10 breaks and then resume at 8:30 Saturday morning 11 and might work past 1 o'clock on Saturday the 12 13th.
