On August 25, 2015, the Court proceeded with the trial with the reading of the indictment, the defendant entering his plea of "Not Guilty," opening statements, and introduction of evidence. The jury, who having heard the evidence submitted, and having been duly charged by the Court, and after hearing argument of counsel, retired in the charge of the proper officer to consider their verdict, and afterward were brought into open Court, by the proper officer, the Defendant and his counsel being present, and in due form of law returned into open Court the following unanimous verdict, which was received by the Court, and is here and now entered upon the minutes of the Court, to wit:

WE, THE JURY, find the defendant, JAMES CALVERT, GUILTY, of the offense of CAPITAL MURDER as charged in the indictment.

The Defendant having been found guilty of Capital Murder by the verdict of the jury and thereupon further evidence being heard by the jury on the special issues pertaining to punishment, the Court again charged the jury as provided by law on the following special issues:

SPECIAL ISSUE NO. 1

Is there a probability that the defendant, JAMES CALVERT, would commit criminal acts of violence that would constitute a continuing threat to society?

Taking into consideration all of the evidence, including the circumstances of the offense, the defendant's character and background, and the personal moral culpability of the defendant, is there sufficient mitigating circumstance or circumstances to warrant that a sentence of life imprisonment rather than a death sentence be imposed?

The jury, after hearing evidence and arguments of counsel, retired in charge of the proper officer to consider their verdict and afterwards were brought into open Court by the proper officer; the Defendant and his counsel being present and in due form of law returned into open Court the following verdict, which was received by the Court and is here and now entered upon the minutes of the Court, to-wit:

ANSWER TO SPECIAL ISSUE NUMBER 1:

We, the jury unanimously find and determine beyond a reasonable doubt that the answer to this Special Issue No. 1 is "YES."
