The following court schedules are established to reduce occupancy in the court building: During all court proceedings, all defendants shall check in with designated court personnel, leave a phone number, preference for text or voice call, and return to their vehicle. Defendants will be notified by the court when they are able to enter the courthouse and attend to court business.

Individuals who are over age 65 and individuals with serious underlying health conditions, such as high blood pressure, chronic lung disease, diabetes, obesity, asthma, and those whose immune systems are compromised such as by chemotherapy for cancer or other conditions requiring such therapy are considered to be vulnerable populations.

Each judge will include information on orders setting hearings, dockets notices, and in other communications notifying individuals who are in vulnerable populations of the ability to contact the court to identify themselves as a vulnerable individual and receive accommodations. A notice with this information will be posted on the courts' websites and in conspicuous locations around the court building (a copy of which is attached).
