

SUMMARY OF VOLUNTARY LICENSURE REQUIREMENTS

	Formal education and/or experience paths	Specific coursework	Statistics	General Forensic Analyst Licensing Exam	Proficiency Monitoring Requirement	Continuing Forensic Education (at License Renewal)	Fee (Initial/Renewal)
Forensic Anthropologist	American Board of Forensic Anthropology (ABFA) certification, including fulfillment of any minimum education requirements required to comply with an maintain ABFA certification at the time of the candidate's application for a license	American Board of Forensic Anthropology (ABFA) Certification. An applicant must be certified by the ABFA, including fulfillment of any specific coursework requirements required to comply with and maintain ABFA certification at the time of the candidate's application for a license.	Three-semester credit hour or equivalent college-level statistics course from an accredited university or a statistics course available online and approved by the Commission	Passing score.	A signed certification by the employing entity that the candidate has fulfilled either of the following: 1. Requirement for Applicants Employed by an Accredited Laboratory: An applicant who is employed by an accredited laboratory must demonstrate the applicant participates in the laboratory's process for intra-laboratory comparison, inter-laboratory comparison, proficiency testing, or observation-based performance	32 total hours, At least 16 of which must be discipline-specific Mandatory legal disclosure/professional responsibility course	$220/$150

					monitoring requirements in compliance with and on the timeline set forth by the laboratory's accrediting body's proficiency monitoring requirements as applicable to the Forensic Analyst's or Forensic Technician's specific forensic discipline and job duties. 2. Requirement for Applicants Not Employed at an Accredited Laboratory or at an Accredited Laboratory in an Unaccredited Forensic Discipline. An applicant who is employed by an entity other than an accredited laboratory or performs a forensic examination or test at an accredited laboratory in a forensic discipline not covered by the scope
--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--

					of the laboratory's accreditation must demonstrate the applicant participates in the laboratory or employing entity's process for intra-laboratory comparison, inter-laboratory comparison, proficiency testing, or observation-based performance monitoring requirements in compliance with and on the timeline set forth by the laboratory or employing entity's Commission-approved process for proficiency monitoring as applicable to the Forensic Analyst's or Forensic Technician's specific forensic discipline and job duties.
Document Examiner	High school diploma or equivalent degree or higher	No other specific coursework required other than required statistics course.	Same.	Passing Score.

